Subject: Fw: 3 Questions To Pounder before You Elect Another Incumbent to Washington D.C. A/K/A District of Criminals, per Michael Synder

Subject: 3 Questions

As we get closer to election you need to pay close attention to these three questions. It is more than , just about you!

FACT...NO MATTER WHO WE VOTE FOR THE BUREAUCRACY WILL STAY IN PLACE....GOVERNMENT MARCHES ON.

3 Questions:

When you vote for an incumbent you are perpetuating our government as it is now. Nothing will change.

Below are 3 short sentences, you may find interesting. These three, short sentences tell you a lot about the direction of our current government and cultural environment:

1.) We are advised NOT to judge ALL Muslims by the actions of a few lunatics, why then are we encouraged to judge ALL gun owners by the actions of a few lunatics?

Funny how that works. And here's another one worth considering.

2.) Seems we constantly hear about how Social Security is going to run out of money. How come we never hear about welfare or food stamps running out of money?

What's interesting is the first group "worked for" their money, but the second didn't.

Think about it..... Last but not least:

3.) Why are we not providing adequate benefits for our veterans, no pay raises for our military and cutting our army to a level lower than before WWII, but we are not stopping payments to illegal aliens such as monthly payments for each child, money for housing, Food Stamps, free education including college and also the right to vote?

Am I the only one missing something?

Hello Patty,

I want to take a moment and thank you for how you have handled the Orlando/Pulse shooting and to also say that you have represented our LGBT+ community around the world with such honor, dignity, and grace. You may say you are just doing your job but I see you doing so much more than that! You've brought awareness, insight, education, compassion, and comfort to not only Orlando but Earth as a whole. I wish I were writing to you under some other circumstance. I can't imagine a better person with as much integrity, veracity, and tenacity to be the voice of advocacy in this tragedy. If you are ever running for an elected position that I could vote in, you'd have my vote hands down! There is no need to respond, please keep up the excellent work you are doing!

All my gratitude and hopes are with you, Orlando, the victims, and all of our LGBT+ brothers and sisters!

Subject: Celebration of Life and Love

Good morning Mayor,

I am not sure if this email will get to you but I wanted to express an idea. I have recently moved back to Orlando but for years, I have always felt that I was apart of this city. Almost the complete coverage on the news has been the tragedies that has been occurring over the past week with good reason.

I was curious if your office has considered organizing a celebration this weekend. It would be quite the short time to organize but I can imagine that you will not have a hard time finding food trucks, people to donate their time, local restaurants wanting to put up stands, or local bands and possibly big name acts to entertain if you just put the idea out there. There could even be a wall to allow people to write what they think to express their feelings. It would be an opportunity to change the tone of the city. I imagine putting something together for this weekend would be tough or may be perceived as insensitive but I know if something has ever happened to me, I would want people to celebrate my life and focus on loving each other.

Just a thought,

Joe

Importance: High

Good morning Mr. Singh!

I am extremely satisfied with your tribute to all participants in the relief efforts in various forms; the lauding of the outpouring of the principle of “it’s better to give than to receive,” and to advise the exercise of caution in giving. I invite all to join me in reading the following for it will launch a secret in plain sight.

I am praying that doctors will succeed in treating the wounded, and by the grace of God, the Almighty, will prevail to achieve all alive and recovering well. There is a ministry proposing eternal life yet pending for those precious 53 souls.

There is perplexity interwoven in the acts of certainty. Doubt can paralyze any people and bring anxiety; apprehension; haste; fear and decisions not based on evidence. The evidence is not among that to be found by very capable and committed men and women of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) at the scene of the despicable crime but rather summarized in the reports of allegiance and alignment with an ideology that is preeminent; purposed; and passionate.

How many persons who are feeling the pain and anguish, asking questions, seeking a solution or just waiting to make sense of the heinous slaughter since the act of violence, by Mr. Omar Mateen, have opened the pages of the book called the Qur-an? How many have sought among its pages an answer to the events that unfolded, now 96+ hours, at the Pulse Nightclub on 49 precious souls?

My professor and yours too would ask for a citation in support of any substantive statement that did not originate with the student. The same is true for any professional claim and more critical in religion. What says the rules? The proper settling of any dispute relies on clear argument, as words, from a trusted source. The medical examiner relied on words from as many written and photographic sources to confirm testimony of loved ones and failing that, those precious dental records, as well as the reading and comparison of the pulp deoxyribonucleic acid (DNA) ‘word.’ The teeth are extremely durable and hold information, therefore read and solve identification challenges (Saxena, Sharma & Gupta, 2010).

Mr. Mateen was not reported to be a Christian but rather pledging allegiance to an Islamic terror group (Shariatmadari, 2016). Otherwise, the book of instructions for the Saints; the 27 Books of the New Testament of the resurrected Lord and Savior; Jesus Christ would be referenced to understand his thoughts, motivation, and actions. Mr Mateen was alleged to be espoused to the religion of Islam; its subscribers being called Muslims and their revered leader and prophet, to them being, Mr. Muhammad ibn-Adbullah. Later in 622 A.D. he became known as the “Apostle of God” (Payne, 1959, p. 26). Muhammad began a bold, persistent, and feverish campaign to establish the messages from God. God is described as looming large, yet gentle and tenderly loving, but subjects must abide in submission (islam) (pp. 68-

71). His victories outweighed his losses and one net result after his death, the Qur'an; compiled from records of words of his received messages that he was heard to utter (p. 68).

Open the book and see great words of tenderness, gardens of peace, and infinite sustenance as in SURAH III:15; 133-134; XIX: 61-63

But, there is an unrelenting charge to secure all converts to Islam so that there can be peace SURAH VII: 39 (The Qur'an Translation).

It beseeches its followers to not keep friends with Jews and Christians for certainty as "he is one of them; surely Allah does not guide the unjust people" SURAH V: 51 (The Qur'an Translation).

"Fight those who do not believe in Allah . . ." SURAH IX: 29 (The Qur'an Translation). The words do not applaud tolerance for the acts of men with men having left their wives. "Nay, you are a people exceeding limits." SURAH XXVI: 165-172 (The Qur'an Translation).

The vivid contrast of deep love and hate is here respectively SURAH II:195- LOVE and SURAH V: 87-NOT LOVE (The Qur'an Translation).

If Mateen was Muslim, and read as few of the many of the SURAHs here cited, was he not pleasing his prophet in stark contrast with the other emotion of "The Apostle of God?"

Enlighten and comfort one another with these words and urge many who say they accentuate peace and abhor violence to take heed how their manual and guide is read.

Regards

Frank Vassell

A Message From Rick Singh

Your Orange County Property Appraiser

Dear Friends,

I have never been more proud of the residents of Orange County as I am now. Although Orlando was the target of a terrible crime, residents here have shown each other and the world that tolerance and unity can prevail.

On behalf of myself and my staff, I offer condolences to the families, friends and colleagues of the victims. We also salute and give thanks to the heroic acts of the Orlando Police Department and other local law enforcement who did everything they could to stop a horrific and senseless act of violence in our community. To all of the doctors, nurses and citizens who selflessly acted quickly to save the lives of others, we offer our sincerest gratitude. It is also a priority for us to help out the community as much as possible.

We will not allow Orange County to be paralyzed by fear. We will not allow our neighbors to mourn alone. As we move forward to try to heal, it will be together, as a strong, unified force of all that is good in this world.

The City of Orlando has set up a fund for those who would like to help.

The purpose of the Fund is to provide a way to help respond to the needs of our community, now and in the time to come, after the effects of the Pulse nightclub tragedy.

The distribution of the funds will be administered by the Central Florida Foundation. The Foundation serves as the region's community foundation and is home to more than 400 charitable funds.

Subject: Cinema for Peace Foundation in Berlin : symbolic film screening in Orlando.

Dear Mr. Buddy Dyer,

I am writing to you on behalf of Cinema for Peace, a non-profit, NGO striving to promote worldwide peace and understanding through the support of cinematographic works.

We, like millions the world over, were shocked and horrified by the abhorrent actions that took place at Pulse nightclub on Sunday 12th of June. This was an attack on the freedom of LGBT communities. We have also been touched by the vigils and acts of unity that have followed in its wake - reminding that we stand stronger together than divided.

As part of our Cinema for Peace project, we would be very keen to work together to host a film screening in Orlando. We want to create an event which will bring people together at this difficult time, to reflect on what the LGBT community has already faced in the long battle for equal rights, and to spread a message of peace and hope through film. We envisage a screening of a remarkable film on LGBT rights, such as Milk, or an important film on gun control, such as Bowling for Columbine, followed by a panel discussion. We would love to work together with you to host such an event in the next week or so. Is this something you could consider? Or if it does not suit your venue, could you point us in the direction of one that may be willing to participate?

We sincerely thank you for taking the time to consider our proposal. We really want to do what little we can to offer peace and respite through film at this difficult time for your city.

Our Warmest Regards,
Dimitra Moutzouri

Subject: Brexit and the Presidential Election: CFO's Global Risk Management Newsletter

Risk Management Newsletter

Global risks seem to abound right now. At the top of the list for finance people worldwide is “Brexit,” the term for the Britain’s vote on leaving the European Union. Even a highly ranked News Corp. executive is saying Britain should “set itself free from dictatorial Brussels.” The interesting thing about Brexit is the vote results on May 23 may not even matter. Sovereign 10-year bond yields in Europe have already plummeted (Germany’s is negative); the CBOE Volatility Index is up near 20, the danger mark; and crude oil prices are dipping below $50 per barrel again.

CFOs, meanwhile, appear to be shifting a bit in their office chairs. Only 45% of them surveyed by EY recently think the global economy is stabilizing, and only 49% expect the global M&A market to improve over the next 12 months. CFO’s own numbers show that nearly eight in ten (79%) U.S. executives believe that the United States economy faces moderate-to-large political risk. But it’s not Brexit U.S. CFOs are worried about: it’s the upcoming presidential election and Washington’s “gridlock or dysfunction.” Fifty-five percent of CFOs said the political climate has made them more cautious to spend. See the survey story (The Business of Politics) and other global risk management coverage from CFO below.

Before doing a move-in for an applicant, the owner/agent must be sure that the applicant is eligible for that HUD program. This eligibility is determined by federal statute and HUD regulations. This is only determined at move-in or initial certification that happens when a Section 236 tenant starts receiving Section 8 assistance. So, one need to understand how an applicant is eligible, before the move-in, to occupy a vacant unit.

- What is income targeting and how does it factor into eligibility?
- What is the policy regarding a police officer or security personnel?
- What must at least one household member provide in order to be eligible?
- Who signs consent and verification forms?

Dear Mr. Murer,

Thank you for your kind words of support. Sunday was the most horrific day in the history of the City of Orlando. And yet, I am even more proud of our community because they came together, united to support the families and friends of the victims.

We learned of the heroic acts of our Orlando Police Department and other law enforcement, as well as our citizens as hundreds of lives were saved throughout the night. The medical personnel that saved so many lives that were transported to the hospital are heroes.

I am proud of how our City has responded to this tragedy and the dedication our City continues to show.

We will not be defined by the act of a cowardly hater. We will be defined by how we respond, how we treat each other.

Subject: UPDATE: The Leadership of the California Infrastructure Bank Moves the National Needle

An update on a topic I haven't sent around a note on in a while . . . - be in touch if want to know more as advise in this area right now -

The California Infrastructure Bank (I-Bank) recently issued a $400 million plus Green Bond. The proceeds are going to much needed water projects in the state. Given the dire situation caused by the drought, money is being deployed swiftly.

Another Green Bond issuance, perhaps more, is in the works. Green Bonds are increasingly used by governments and companies to invest in forward-looking energy projects. Apple recently issued a $1.5 billion dollar one.

The I-Bank is the only multi-sector infrastructure bank in the country and has lent out well north of $37 billion to-date. It was created by Republican Governor Pete Wilson and is now moving aggressively into Clean Energy under Governor Jerry Brown right now.

I co-chaired the Governor Edmund Brown Jr. Task Force to Modernize the California Infrastructure Bank. After an extensive period of analyzing its lending practices to-date and its statute, as well as conducting broad outreach to key stakeholders including a roadshow to leading Northeastern investors, we made a number of recommendations.

These recommendations have largely been take up. They included:

- 1) Moving the I-Bank from the Treasurer's Office to the Governor's Office so that it could be intimately linked into the Office and its priorities
- 2) Giving it a mandate to carry out Green Infrastructure
- 3) Using its powers to catalyze large scale private investment in public infrastructure
- 4) Increasing its senior level staff so that it had the expertise and breadth of capabilities to carry out a broader intensive set of responsibilities

These recommendations were adopted by the Governor with the first one actually making its way through an unruly deeply divided CA legislature.

The leadership of the I-Bank is doing important innovative leading things right now within the Clean Endrgy and public-private partnership space right now. Nationally important innovative leading.

The issuance of the Green Bond is only the first part of planned program of clean energy infrastructure projects.

The I-Bank established what is called the California Lending for Energy and Environmental Needs Center, what it refers to for short as the CLEEN Center.

The CLEEN Center has broad powers to make clean energy projects happen including through the issuance of Green Bonds, use of loans, loan guarantees, and public-private partnerships catalyzed through credits, insurance and other enhancements.

In a time in which federal support for clean projects is in jeopardy, being rolled back in places or simply not up to the task of funding much needed projects, the I-Bank now has a directive to finance a range of project types including:

1. Renewable Energy
2. Storage Technology
3. Water
4. Alternative Technologies
5. Hydrogen Production
6. Alternative Fuels
7. Transportation
8. Energy Efficiency
9. Industrial Process Efficiency
10. Residential

In the current presidential cycle both the Secretary of State and Mr. Trump have made infrastructure investments a cornerstone of their respective economic platforms.

Recently, we at 32 Advisors held an event, hosted by Shearman & Sterling, on the election and infrastructure investments.

We had a lively discussion about how these commitments might make their way in practice. Happy to share what came out at the event. What is happening in California with the I-Bank warrants a careful review by each of the candidates; it will be of great interest in CA and beyond.

Subject: Urgent

Hi Mr. Mayor,

First, I want you to know that I share in the pain and the shock of the citizens of Orlando, and my heart is with the bereaved families and the wounded.

Terror is not something new to me.

I moved from Vancouver BC to live in Israel, that suffers more terror, year after year, than any other democratic, 1st world country.

With a $100,000 donation in 2001, I started an organization, called The OneFamily Fund, which provides a comprehensive individualized care for every member of each family, based on each one's unique circumstances. We are providing our services (detailed below) today, to 2,800 families, numbering approximately 10,000 people. We have a staff of 46, located in four geographically divided regions of Israel

We are by far Israel's largest private foundation providing for the needs of every one of Israel's victims of terror, who chooses to receive it.

We provide the following:

- Financial grants based needs,
- Kids healing Camps, three times a year, for over 600 bereaved children under 18.
- A young adults division with over 700 men and women from the ages of 22 to 35 with 750 participants
- a bereaved Parents division with over 1,000 parents.
- a division for kids who lost both parents.
- a widow and widowers division with over 300 people
- two wounded divisions, divided by age for a few thousand of the wounded.
- A "professional friend" is assigned to each individual, which is run by professionals and a large cadre of volunteers

All of this is based on 15 years of experience, and over $45.0 million dollars of charitable distributions in cash or services.

I believe OneFamily has a lot to offer the community of wounded and bereaved in your Orlando, financially, emotionally, psychologically and more.

I also believe we could very helpful is raising the size of the fund through our personal contacts, Hollywood contacts and a viral marketing campaign.

We would be glad to help you in setting up the programs we have developed here during our 15 years of experience. Our comprehensive care for for the "victims" of terror or, as many prefer to call themselves, the "heroic survivors" of terror will change the lives for the better of every one involved. And we would be happy, through our contacts, to raise funds for their care and perhaps even enough for future attacks.

OneFamily received The President of Israel's award for volunteerism in 2011.

OneFamily has the public Endorsement of Israel's Prime Minister, Minister of Education, Minister of Defense, Minister of health and welfare as well as Israel's Ambassadors to the United States and the United Nations.
The former Mayor of Miami Beach, David Dermer, can also serve as a reference.

I appreciate the time you have taken to read this letter.
I hope we can be in touch to very soon to further develop this proposal.
Time is of the essence.

Sincerely
Marc Belzberg

Subject: Everytown briefing on the tragedy in Orlando - Summary

Dear Coalition Mayors and Staff,

Thanks to those of you who joined the Everytown briefing call yesterday. We appreciate your time, questions, and dedication to these important issues.

Here are the documents we discussed on the call:

- A fact sheet on Orlando, Hate Crimes, Terrorism, and Weak Gun Laws
- The #DisarmHate social media toolkit and guidelines

As we all grapple with the tragedy in Orlando and approach the 1 year anniversary of Charleston, we cannot ignore that these crimes have a commonality in hatred. And when hatred is armed, it kills. Please use these resources to join our campaign to #disarmhate and make our communities safer.

Feel free to reach out with any additional questions or comments that you have.

As mayors, you also grapple with everyday gun violence that does not receive national news attention. We are excited to share with you our new report Strategies for Reducing Gun Violence in American Cities. These examples of how some of your cities are addressing gun violence will be the start of an ongoing conversation within our coalition of mayors, and with our partners and your constituents about how to address the guns on all of our streets.

Subject: CONDOLENCES ON RECENT TRAGEDIES

Dear Mayor,

I would like to start off by sending my condolences to your city and the people of Orlando. The recent tragedies in Orlando have been absolutely heartbreaking for my family and myself to watch on TV. But the recent alligator attack on the 2 year boy from Nebraska has been bothering me. Unfortunately it usually takes a tragedy before we look at how we can better something or improve it. Now I am sure you have been overwhelmed with emails in the past week. But I feel that if I did not speak out it would lay on my subconscious . I know this is not the first alligator attack and sadly I'm sure it will not be the last. But I feel that it would be very beneficial for any person whether they are from Florida or from out of town. Upon checking in to any resort, hotel, motel etc. that it could become standard that they are given a pamphlet or some sort of information on alligators in and around our waters. Knowledge is everything. Please lets prevent this tragedy from happening again to any family or any of our precious children.

Best Regards
Shannon Sherman

Mrs. Simon,

Your note is a very pleasant reprieve in what can only be “understatedly” described as a very unpleasant week in my community.

Thank you, thank you, for thinking of those of us in Orlando who have had our city completely and utterly disrupted. The emotional tumult cannot be prepared for, few of us remain unaffected, but we’re working hard here to assist those most in need. Night before last I had dinner with an Orange County Deputy who was among those first on the scene at the Pulse Nightclub, he described the carnage, and even this hardened cop fell into tears.

It has been 36 years since I left East Lansing and moved to Florida, I have seen my state grow from approximately 9 million people to more than 20 million. While the growth mostly brings good things and good people, there is clearly some bad; none of us ever expected this kind of “evil”.

The fact that you took the time to extend your kindness and prayers to me, my fellow Sunshine State Spartans, and all Floridians is truly appreciated; I for one am deeply grateful!

Orlando Mayor Buddy Dyer is a friend of mine and I have copied him on your note and my response. Clearly Midwestern stoicism, never outweighs Midwestern kindness and caring, I am touched by the fact that Spartans on campus are rallying around my community from afar, and I’m certain Mayor Dyer will be as well.

PS: You are welcome to share this note with whomever you please.

The One Pulse Community Fund is an enduring investment in the local Latino community, especially and including LGBTQ Latinos.

During the early hours of June 12, 2016, Orlando's future changed forever. In this moment, a senseless act of violence took the lives of 49 victims, wounded 53, and emotionally impacted millions of lives throughout the world.

Many of the victims are members of our community. As an undivided community we are united in strength and solidarity, keeping in mind the needs of those affected. The issues that will continue to arise in the aftermath of this tragedy will be culturally sensitive, thus we are ready to help our families in the process of healing. We must come together collectively, as a family, to address issues of acceptance within our own community.

We are all One Pulse - we are committed to being part of the solution during times of financial crisis. The One Pulse Community Fund is an enduring investment in the local Latino community, especially and including LGBTQ Latinos.

This Fund was established in response to the recent tragedy to meet the emerging needs of the families affected. Latino Leadership, Inc. is ready to help these families in the process of healing by providing interest-free, short-term loans for immediate support to help bridge the financial burdens associated with funeral and medical expenses and a wide range of other costs that have resulted from this terrible circumstance.

The issuing of these loans will keep the Fund cyclical and accessible to meet the future needs of the Latino community in Orlando. Your generosity is greatly appreciated. Thank you for standing with us to ensure that the community continually has what it needs to thrive.

Dear Mayor Dyer,

We are all heartbroken over the past week's tragedies. The attacks and terrible events have shown an outpouring of love and affection this community might not have ever experienced. Your leadership and guidance serves as an example for other cities to follow for years to come when facing such horrific events.

As a sign of our united spirit, I wish to suggest a possible lasting memorial to our victims, survivors, and community. Please investigate the Rainbow Eucalyptus trees as a possible symbol of our UnitedOrlando memorial. As a patron of the Dr. Phillips Center Broadway Series, my wife (the cultured one in this marriage) and I have watched the development of our downtown area. In the large courtyard at the entrance of the Dr. Phillips Center, a beautiful cluster of Rainbow Eucalyptus with appropriate markers could show our continued support to the LGBTQ community and last memorial to the past weeks' events.

Thank you for your consideration of this matter. Please take the time to explore this magnificent trees and their exquisite beauty. I have recently provided one for a small gathering of supporters to our LGBTQ community that will be planting it this weekend. If you wish any further information about acquiring the trees, please feel free to contact us - fellow members of the College Park community.

Respectfully,

John "Buddy",

HUGE news – our race has been named RED TO BLUE! That means that we're one of the best chances in the country for a Democratic pickup!

It also means that David Young and his Washington allies are going to double down on trying to keep us from turning this seat blue. We need to be ready to fight back. We set a goal of $5,000 for our Red to Blue Fund, and we need to hit it by Friday if we want to stay on track before our major FEC fundraising deadline on the 30th.

Subject: Urgent

Hi Mr. Mayor,

First, I want you to know that I share in the pain and the shock of the citizens of Orlando, and my heart is with the bereaved families and the wounded.

Terror is not something new to me.

I moved from Vancouver BC to live in Israel, that suffers more terror, year after year, than any other democratic, 1st world country.

With a $100,000 donation in 2001, I started an organization, called The OneFamily Fund, which provides a comprehensive individualized care for every member of each family, based on each one's unique circumstances. We are providing our services (detailed below) today, to 2,800 families, numbering approximately 10,000 people. We have a staff of 46, located in four geographically divided regions of Israel

We are by far Israel's largest private foundation providing for the needs of every one of Israel's victims of terror, who chooses to receive it.

We provide the following:

- Financial grants based needs,
- Kids healing Camps, three times a year, for over 600 bereaved children under 18.
- A young adults division with over 700 men and women from the ages of 22 to 35 with 750 participants
- a bereaved Parents division with over 1,000 parents.
- a division for kids who lost both parents.
- a widow and widowers division with over 300 people
- two wounded divisions, divided by age for a few thousand of the wounded.
- A "professional friend" is assigned to each individual, which is run by professionals and a large cadre of volunteers

All of this is based on 15 years of experience, and over $45.0 million dollars of charitable distributions in cash or services.

I believe OneFamily has a lot to offer the community of wounded and bereaved in your Orlando, financially, emotionally, psychologically and more.

I also believe we could very helpful is raising the size of the fund through our personal contacts, Hollywood contacts and a viral marketing campaign.

We would be glad to help you in setting up the programs we have developed here during our 15 years of experience. Our comprehensive care for for the "victims" of terror or, as many prefer to call themselves, the "heroic survivors" of terror will change the lives for the better of every one involved. And we would be happy, through our contacts, to raise funds for their care and perhaps even enough for future attacks.

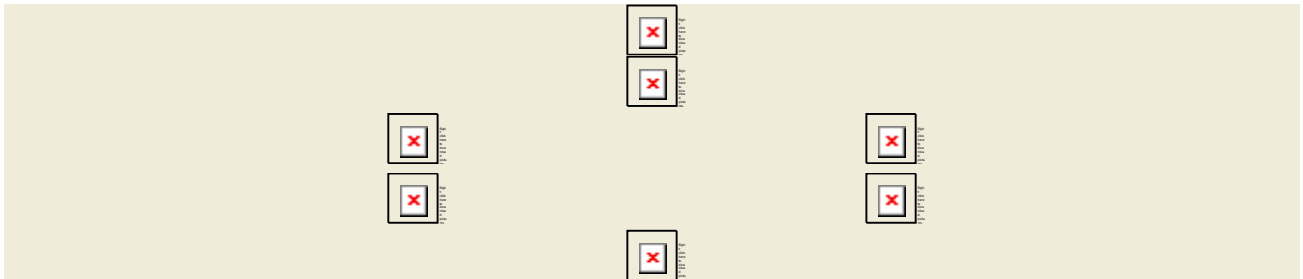

OneFamily received The President of Israel's award for volunteerism in 2011.

OneFamily has the public Endorsement of Israel's Prime Minister, Minister of Education, Minister of Defense, Minister of health and welfare as well as Israel's Ambassadors to the United States and the United Nations.
The former Mayor of Miami Beach, David Dermer, can also serve as a reference.

I appreciate the time you have taken to read this letter.
I hope we can be in touch to very soon to further develop this proposal.
Time is of the essence.

Sincerely
Marc Belzberg

Mayor Dyer –

On behalf of the more than 4,000 Siemens employees that call Central Florida home, I want to take this opportunity to express our gratitude to you, the City team and our region's first responders for your leadership during this difficult time. This senseless tragedy has impacted our community in ways unimaginable, but to see how the region has come together and rallied their support makes me extremely proud.

To that end, I'd like to provide an update on Siemens' commitment to the OneOrlando.org fund. Our employees in greater Orlando and across the country have been anxious to join in the efforts to support the victims and their families. We are pleased to pledge an initial contribution of $50,000, and will also launch an employee match initiative with the goal of raising another $50,000 – which we will then match dollar for dollar, bringing our total potential commitment to $150,000.

Again, we are proud to have been part of the community for more than three decades, and truly appreciate all the tireless hours you and your team have put in over the last few days. It is the aftermath of challenging times like this that truly define a city – and I know I can speak on behalf of not only the 4,000 local Siemens employees, but the more than 50,000 across the United States – that Orlando remains more united than ever.

Best regards,

Subject: Urgent

Hi Mr. Mayor,

First, I want you to know that I share in the pain and the shock of the citizens of Orlando, and my heart is with the bereaved families and the wounded.

Terror is not something new to me.

I moved from Vancouver BC to live in Israel, that suffers more terror, year after year, than any other democratic, 1st world country.

With a $100,000 donation in 2001, I started an organization, called The OneFamily Fund, which provides a comprehensive individualized care for every member of each family, based on each one's unique circumstances. We are providing our services (detailed below) today, to 2,800 families, numbering approximately 10,000 people. We have a staff of 46, located in four geographically divided regions of Israel

We are by far Israel's largest private foundation providing for the needs of every one of Israel's victims of terror, who chooses to receive it.

We provide the following:

- Financial grants based needs,
- Kids healing Camps, three times a year, for over 600 bereaved children under 18.
- A young adults division with over 700 men and women from the ages of 22 to 35 with 750 participants
- a bereaved Parents division with over 1,000 parents.
- a division for kids who lost both parents.
- a widow and widowers division with over 300 people
- two wounded divisions, divided by age for a few thousand of the wounded.
- A "professional friend" is assigned to each individual, which is run by professionals and a large cadre of volunteers

All of this is based on 15 years of experience, and over $45.0 million dollars of charitable distributions in cash or services.

I believe OneFamily has a lot to offer the community of wounded and bereaved in your Orlando, financially, emotionally, psychologically and more.

I also believe we could very helpful is raising the size of the fund through our personal contacts, Hollywood contacts and a viral marketing campaign.

We would be glad to help you in setting up the programs we have developed here during our 15 years of experience. Our comprehensive care for for the "victims" of terror or, as many prefer to call themselves, the "heroic survivors" of terror will change the lives for the better of every one involved. And we would be happy, through our contacts, to raise funds for their care and perhaps even enough for future attacks.

OneFamily received The President of Israel's award for volunteerism in 2011.

OneFamily has the public Endorsement of Israel's Prime Minister, Minister of Education, Minister of Defense, Minister of health and welfare as well as Israel's Ambassadors to the United States and the United Nations.
The former Mayor of Miami Beach, David Dermer, can also serve as a reference.

I appreciate the time you have taken to read this letter.
I hope we can be in touch to very soon to further develop this proposal.
Time is of the essence.

Sincerely
Marc Belzberg

Hi Tammy....I am briefly in the office this morning....most all of us are out in the community this week tending to our grieving City. Your email is quite touching to me because I grew up in Lynchburg...went to James Madison University....have a tremendous love for the State of Virginia and have deep affection for Richmond as well. This has been a very hard time for us...but we are determined...strong and united. The outpouring from around the world is overwhelmingly inspirational.

May I have the cell number for Mayor Jones so that I can ask Mayor Dyer to call once he has a break? I know Mayor Dyer appreciates the City of Richmond reaching out to us here in Orlando...please convey this.

Thank you so much...

Dear Mayor Dyer,

I had contacted you a few years ago regarding a film that I produced locally in Orlando. The film honors Orlando's LGBT community and delivers a positive message to all who view it. Since my initial contact, the film has gone to DVD and is currently on Hulu Plus. While my film spotlights the LGBT community, it should be seen by straight people and is not offensive or obscene in any way. I would like to help all of the residents of Orlando, especially those who have been directly affected by this horrible attack, by sharing my film in some way to get the most eyes on it. I would like you to view it...it's only 1 hour and 24 min. long and let me know how I can help by lending the film for fundraising and social awareness with the film's positive message. It's important to me to show gratitude to the LGBT community as well.

Please let me know if you can take some time.....with your family.....to view the film and I will get it to you on line.

I hope to be able to help out.

Dear Sir,

We have just returned from a family visit to Europe.

After a trans-Atlantic, and arriving with a few kids, the last thing folks need is more hurdles between them and their bed.

Someone has decided we need a pre-Immigration check for US citizens.

If you are a US passport holder you have to line up to gain access to a computer terminal, which asks a few questions, scans your passport, and then takes your picture after adjusting it's height to equal your height. It prints out the results on a piece of thermal paper, you put in your passport and after lining up to go through the real Immigration control, you surrender the piece of paper.

Our friends from Finland, travelling with us, were fed up waiting for us by the time we got through to baggage.

Sincerely

Allan

Good Afternoon,

My name is Deb Montgomery and I have been writing grants professionally for workforce investment boards, American job centers, housing authorities, colleges, schools and nonprofits for over twenty-one years. I currently work with a group of some of the best Department of Labor grant writers in the United States. My team is in the process of actively marketing our grant proposal writing services for the Department of Labor's "America's Promise Job Driven Grant Program". As you are probably aware, The Department of Labor expects to fund 20-40 grants, with individual grant amounts ranging up to $6 million dollars over 4 years. It is a wonderful program designed to strengthen the pipeline of skilled workers to expand an economic region's middle- to highskilled workforce within one or more prioritized industry sector(s). The grant will provide individuals the opportunity to get high-quality, tuition free education and training that leads to in-demand and industry-recognized credentials and degrees.

My team and I have successfully written these type of grants numerous times before and we know what it takes to maximize your chances of receiving this funding. I only have a handful of slots available to accept new clients so if you are at all interested in speaking with me about this grant or any other funding opportunities, please email me or give my associate, John Nawrocki, a call. Mayor Dyer,

I am getting in touch with you at what must be a very busy and difficult time. Since last Sunday morning all of us in the LGBT have broken hearts and stand with those who have lost loved ones and friends.

I am reaching out to you today because I want those affected to know the world loves them and will remember their loved ones.

Toronto's Pride Parade - the largest LGBT Pride festival in North America would like to offer to fly survivors of the Orlando massacre as well as family members and loved ones of the victims to Toronto to march in the parade in honour of their loved ones. We will hold a moment of silence and over a million people lining the route will send their love and be truly touched.

We would cover all associated costs.

We would very much appreciate being put in contact with any of the survivors or family members and loved ones of the victims.

If this comes at too difficult a time, and the survivors, family members and loved ones are simply too overwhelmed, we will completely understand and do not expect a response.

Please also feel free to pass along my info or put me in contact with any organizations or individuals you think would be able to assist.

Please know the world loves and is thinking of everyone affected.

Thank you for all that you are doing,

The words thank you seem woefully inadequate for the outpouring of support I have received from so many people like you for the people of Orlando. From all over the country the personal words of kindness and support, offers of assistance have served to hearten, sustain and strengthen all of us. Thank you.

This past Sunday was the most horrific day in the history of the City of Orlando. And yet, I have never been more proud of our community because of the way they have come together, united with a singular focus of supporting the families and friends of the victims. Our hearts are broken for the family and friends of those we lost.

The heroic acts of our Orlando Police Department as well as other law enforcement, and the actions of our citizens no doubt saved lives throughout that night. The medical personnel in our City were tireless as they worked to save the lives of those transported to their hospital. They are heroes.

I cannot overstate the gratitude I have for the dedication of our City employees. Through long hours, they have helped in every way possible to lead our City through this weekend's events.

We will be a better City because of this. We will not be defined by the act of a cowardly hater. We will be defined by how we respond, how we treat each other.

Our hearts are broken for the family and friends of those we lost.

The heroic acts of our Orlando Police Department as well as other law enforcement, and the actions of our citizens no doubt saved lives throughout that night. The medical personnel in our City were tireless as they worked to save the lives of those transported to their hospital. They are heroes.

I cannot overstate the gratitude I have for the dedication of our City employees. Through long hours, they have helped in every way possible to lead our City through this weekend's events.

We will be a better City because of this. We will not be defined by the act of a cowardly hater. We will be defined by how we respond, how we treat each other.

Mr. Mayor,

Once again, I learn that your beautiful country is hit by barbarism and intolerance, and I would like to tell you how much I am hurt that your city has been the scene of such savagery.

There are almost fifteen years, I cried watching terrible images on television, I did it once again a few months ago in the attacks that have occurred in my country, and once again, I collapsed and bruised by such a situation.

The only thing that is possible for citizens of other cities around the world is to think of the victims and their families, they receive at least in thought, compassion and support.

Please receive Mr. Mayor, my sincere condolences to all your fellow citizens and their families.

Monsieur le Maire,

Une fois de plus, j'apprends que votre beau pays est frappé par la barbarie et l'intolérance, et j'aimerais vous dire à quel point je suis blessé que votre ville ait été le lieu d'une telle sauvagerie.

Il y a bientôt quinze ans, j'ai pleuré en regardant des images terribles à la télévision, je l'ai fait encore une fois voici quelques mois lors des attentats qui se sont produits dans mon pays, et une fois encore, je suis effondré et meurtri par une telle situation.

La seule chose qui soit possible pour les citoyens d'autres villes à travers le monde est de penser aux victimes et à leurs familles, pour qu'elles reçoivent au moins par la pensée, compassion et soutien.

Je vous prie de recevoir Monsieur le Maire, mes sincères condoléances pour tous vos concitoyens et leurs familles.

Hello all,

Orlando Shootings, Radical Jihadism and the Terrorism Terminology Battles

By
AARON DAVID MILLER

The terrorism terminology battle that has simmered for years and most recently flared between Donald Trump on one side and Hillary Clinton and Barack Obama on the other boils down to this: Is there value or utility in linking and identifying as Islamic (radical or extremist) the spate of terror attacks carried out by those who identify with Islamic State or other jihadi causes? No one argues for anything that would make more difficult the fight against those extremists who draw on Islamic texts and practices, however perversely, to validate their killing. A distinction is whether word choice or actions would alienate Muslim constituencies here and abroad that many—including me—would argue are vital to that fight.

President Obama, Mr. Trump, and Mrs. Clinton have made multiple statements and speeches since New York-born Omar Mateen killed 49 people and injured more than 50 others in Orlando. Mr. Trump denounced the shootings as “radical Islamic terrorism” and charged that the president is not only weak on such issues but also that failing to identify the problem makes eliminating it impossible. President Obama has said that “If we fall into the trap of painting all Muslims with a broad brush and imply that we are at war with an entire religion, then we are doing the terrorists’ work for them.”

Mrs. Clinton, under pressure, has said both that “I’m not going to demonize and demagogue and declare war on an entire religion. That’s just plain dangerous and it plays into ISIS’s hands.” as well as that “Radical jihadism, radical Islamism, I think they mean the same thing. I’m happy to say either.”

The Obama administration is in many ways following the George W. Bush administration’s lead. After Sept. 11, 2001, President Bush avoided declaring war on Islam or the Muslim world. During a visit to the Islamic Center in Washington less than a week after 9/11, Mr. Bush said: “The face of terror is not the true faith of Islam. That’s not what Islam is all about. Islam is peace.” Just days later, Mr. Bush’s use of the loaded word “crusade”—“This crusade, this war on terrorism, is going to take a while.”—sparked controversy, but by and large his administration described terrorism as acts of evil, which avoided fostering the idea that the U.S. was at war with Islam and sought to minimize the backlash against Muslims in the U.S. A “war on terror” was deemed more appropriate.

The Obama White House dubbed its summit on counterterrorism a meeting to counter violent extremism, itself steering clear of specific labels to help strengthen relations with Muslims in the U.S. and to avoid offending Muslims abroad who are allies in the fight against terrorism.

Mr. Trump’s references to banning Muslims and accusing Muslims in the U.S. of supporting terrorists strike many—including me—as bigoted, xenophobic, and Islamophobic. At the same time, the Obama administration’s apparent reluctance to consistently associate such attacks with jihadi extremism angers many. There is no point in denying connections between acts of terrorism and Islamist extremists. Of the five terror groups responsible for the most attacks worldwide, three promote an extreme Islamist ideology, according to the State

Department's 2015 counterterrorism report. The Orlando shooter's 9-1-1 calls, reports of what he said in the Pulse nightclub, and his previous associations with jihadi rhetoric suggest that he was inspired to some extent by the ISIS narrative. Accurately describing the challenge presented by jihadi attacks helps to clarify the complex task ahead. This isn't a clash of civilizations, nor is the U.S. at war with 1.7 billion Muslims or a religion in which a tiny fraction who adhere to extremist strains kill and inspire others to do so. Still, no other major religion is linked to such a phenomenon. Jihadi terror isn't an existential threat to the United States. But it is capable of inflicting tremendous suffering, and inadvertently minimizing this kind of terrorism doesn't help.

In our polarized political climate, consensus on language or a unifying message isn't forthcoming, particularly not in a presidential-election year. Still, nearly 15 years after 9/11 inflicted a tragic unifying moment, more ought to be possible in terms of accurately describing these adversaries and, more important, what to do about them.

Dear Bill,

The words thank you seem woefully inadequate for the personal outpouring of support I have received from old friends like you for the people of Orlando. From all over the country the personal words of kindness and support and offers of assistance have served to hearten, sustain and strengthen all of us. Thank you.

This past Sunday was the most horrific day in the history of the City of Orlando. And yet, I have never been more proud of our community because of the way they have come together, united with a singular focus of supporting the families and friends of the victims. Our hearts are broken for the family and friends of those we lost.

The heroic acts of our Orlando Police Department as well as other law enforcement, and the actions of our citizens no doubt saved lives throughout that night. The medical personnel in our City were tireless as they worked to save the lives of those transported to their hospital. They are heroes.

I cannot overstate the gratitude I have for the dedication of our City employees. Through long hours, they have helped in every way possible to lead our City through this weekend's events.

We will be a better City because of this. We will not be defined by the act of a cowardly hater. We will be defined by how we respond, how we treat each other.

Just a few years later I went through my own time of crisis with 9/11. Take heart. Be strong. The thoughts of our entire nation are with you and the good people of Orlando. All the Best. Dear Mr Dyer,

Here in the UK, unlike in the US, we get to hear what's happening in the rest of the world, and on our news coverage an atrocity like today's in Orlando has been the lead story, only interrupting the celebrations of our wonderful Queen's 90th birthday.

It was an appalling act, but please don't just blame Muslim fundamentalism (that's a whole problem on its own that we share) or mental illness or whatever ever else excuse this particular gunman may have had, but blame yourself as a politician, and your country's abject failure to tackle the issue of legally owned firearms. I don't know, but I'll take a wild punt that the shooter owned his weapons legally, if he didn't it would be easy to get hold of guns in a country awash with them. So to my question, when will you people realise that letting the populous arm themselves will always lead to events like this and how many more of your innocent citizens will you let die?

To my mind Obama has been a great disappointment as the first black president, and, I suspect we won't get to find out just how disappointing Hilary will be as the first woman president, BUT someone needs to stand up to the NRA and stop this senseless killing in the self-styled greatest democracy in the world. We had two major atrocities in the UK, Hungerford and Dumblane, we changed the law. If you can't easily get guns, you can't easily shoot people. Why, if it's not the voting power of the gun lobby, do you not address this issue? Every politician in America has blood on their hands, the blood of their own people. Take the weapons away and you will stop the killings. Not just of these poor gay chaps, but all the Columbines and God knows how many other mass killings, so numerous I can't even remember where they took place!

I'm sorry Mr Dyer, it must have been a terrible, dark day for you and I would have sent this email directly to Mr Obama, but you are much more accessible on the Internet (to your credit). I wish you and the people of Florida nothing but sympathy and hope. Stop the guns, stop the killings.

With all good wishes

First, my thoughts and prayers go out to the victims of the Pulse nightclub shooting and their families, and to you and your constituents. These types of events not only affect the victims and their immediate families, but society at large: they remind us of our vulnerability and the senselessness of mass violence.

Me and two other researchers have developed a predictive analytics strategy that we think could substantially assist law enforcement in getting early warning for a potential mass shooting. This strategy proposes tracking ammunition purchases in a secure, centralized database. The purchases are anonymized to protect identity, but with the ability to get a purchasers' ID after due process.

The ammunition purchase database will allow law enforcement to leverage powerful big data technology and predictive analytics to identify unusual ammunition purchase patterns that are indicative of an impending mass shooting. In addition, the system can learn over time by training it with actual shooting events and the ammunition purchase behavior that preceded it.

I have attached a more detailed description if you would like to know more. Of course, I and my fellow researchers are available to you as well, should you wish to discuss further.

With Deepest Sympathy,

I am reaching out to you today because I want those affected to know the world loves them and will remember their loved ones.

Toronto's Pride Parade - the largest LGBT Pride festival in North America would like to offer to fly survivors of the Orlando massacre as well as family members and loved ones of the victims to Toronto to march in the parade in honour of their loved ones. We will hold a moment of silence and over a million people lining the route will send their love and be truly touched.

We would cover all associated costs.

We would very much appreciate being put in contact with any of the survivors or family members and loved ones of the victims.

If this comes at too difficult a time, and the survivors, family members and loved ones are simply too overwhelmed, we will completely understand and do not expect a response.

Please also feel free to pass along my info or put me in contact with any organizations or individuals you think would be able to assist.

Please know the world loves and is thinking of everyone affected.

Refugee Integration in the United States

By David Dyssegaard Kallick with Silva Mathema

Refugees come to the United States from some of the most hard-hit corners all around the world, having experienced hardships that the rest of us can barely imagine. Refugees are admitted to the United States for seeking a safe haven from a well-founded fear of persecution in their home countries, but they arrive to contribute to the American economy in a myriad of ways: bringing vitality to areas with declining populations, contributing to the growth of areas that are already flourishing, and expanding the labor force.

This report focuses on how four groups—Somali, Burmese, Hmong, and Bosnian refugees—are doing on key indicators of integration, such as wages, labor market participation, business ownership, English language ability, and citizenship in the United States. As the United States and other countries wrestle with how to handle the sharp rise in the number of people around the globe displaced by conflict and persecution, the long-term experience of the four groups studied in this report should provide some grounds for encouragement.

Subject: DoubleXXposure Media Gathers Talent in Fundraising Concert for Orlando Shooting Victims

Dear Honorable, Mayor Buddy Dyer

As others and I have many times before, I am again reaching out to you during yet another national crisis. As you know, the shooting in Orlando was not an isolated or random act of violence against the LGBT community. We are as much under the gun as any other oppressed people are, and this last horrific injustice against us has finally gotten the attention of the world. In this time, we need to add to the pressure to enact better conditions for the LGBT community and as well raise funds for the victims who are ill prepared to handle this devastation—financially or emotionally. I have begun to gather artists who are uniting for a benefit concert to be held within the next week (date TBD). Dionne Warwick, Allison Williams, Lil Kim, Ashante and a few TV stars have contacted me since the announcement was released, so the clarion call is being answered. Seeing your tremendous ability to orate on behalf of those in crisis, I implore you to join me as I pull together this fundraiser—100 % benefiting those affecting survivors and families. May I gain some of your time for a face meeting to discuss your potential involvement with the concert? Whatever best time suits, as I realize your schedule must be hectic. Thank you in advance for all contributions you make on behalf of this cause and the community you have long served.

Warmest Regards,
Angelo Ellerbee

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
June 13, 2016 (New York, NY)-

DoubleXXposure Media Gathers Talent in Fundraising Concert for Orlando Shooting Victims

Angelo Ellerbee, CEO of DoubleXXposure Media, has long stood at the forefront of the LGBT rights movement, and sits among the pioneers in the fight against AIDS. His firm issued a statement on June 13, 2016 regarding the horrific act of violence in Orlando, and of their plans for a fundraising concert benefiting those affected.

"As an openly gay, African American man, I am a part of a community that has long been in the crosshairs of misunderstanding and violence. I remain behind the fight against those forces that would deny us our right to be free. To be who we are. To be ourselves. My heart goes out to those who have suffered at the hands such evil. I can't just sit still however and offer condolences anymore. As an advocate, I am raising my voice yet again and calling upon major artists to join in a concert to raise funds for those lives affected in Orlando."

The first to bring their talents and advocacy to the concert is the legendary Dionne Warwick, an acclaimed performer/activist whose AIDS charity song "That's What Friends Are For," with Stevie Wonder, Elton John and Gladys Knight, served as a massive wakeup call as the first recording dedicated to raising awareness and major funds for AIDS in support of AMFAR. Also supporting the effort is renowned Archbishop Designate E. Bernard Jordan, whose church, Zoe Ministries at 310 Riverside Dr #103, New York, NY 10025 will serve as the venue for the planned fundraising concert.

DoubleXXposure is requesting all major talent in addition to technicians and other professionals to lend their support to the concert--scheduled to take place within the next ten days. "We are needing all available hands, including other major artist to join the lineup," states Ellerbee, "working in a medium that reaches millions, I believe our talents can be put to good use once more in showing the world what unity sounds like."

In the interim, DoubleXXposure encourages everyone to donate to blood banks, stating, "There will never be enough." He also urges monetary donations via Equality Florida's nonprofit LGBT civil rights organization that has set up a GoFundMe account for the victims and their families. Orlando Shakespeare Theater responds to Orlando tragedy.

Dear Buddy,

On behalf of everyone at Orlando Shakespeare Theater, we would like to express our deepest sorrow over the senseless murders that took away 49 members of our community. We honor those that lost their lives and offer hope for those still recovering. This will be a time of healing for every person in Central Florida.

"Your tragedy is our tragedy... Theater is a place where every race, creed, sexuality and gender is equal, is embraced and is loved. Hate will never win. Together, we have to make sure of that." – James Corden, Tony Awards 2016

We recognize more than ever that the issues of intolerance, bigotry, and exclusion still confront the American people. It is our hope that through West Side Story, we can present a piece of American musical theater that entertains, teaches, and reminds audiences that we build strong communities and prosperous futures through tolerance and inclusion.

Orlando Shakespeare Theater will continue to support this community

love, and a greater acceptance of all people.

On Thursday, Lynx unveiled a new bus wrap to commemorate the victims of the Pulse nightclub mass shooting in Orlando.

"We touch just about every aspect of this community, and we needed to show our support," said Lynx CEO Edward Johnson. "We wanted to come up with a way to show that we stand as part of the OneOrlando mindset."

The bus features Orlando's Lake Eola fountain surrounded by a heart, a pulse and 49 doves representing the 49 victims of the tragedy.

"We tried to think of a way not only to honor the victims, but also to bring Orlando together," said lead creative designer Jessica Casa. "It seemed like the perfect thing to have [the fountain] in the heart and have a pulse entering it — the pulse of the city of Orlando."

The bus wrap was produced rapidly. Once the design team began, it was only a matter of hours until they put the finishing touches on the final product. After that, the installation company stepped in. Although the print and installation process typically takes three to four days, employees worked through the night to get the bus ready as quickly as possible.

"We're all very proud of the final product," Johnson said.

Although the bus is not running any routes yet, Johnson hopes it will run along Orange Avenue as a tribute to where the shooting took place.

The bus will remain in the fleet for some time to come.

"We don't want to put any timetable on this because we know that this event is going to be with us for a while," said Johnson. "There are a lot of things we have to go through as far as the healing process."

The company's Boston-based advertising contractor, Direct Media USA, is donating a second commemorative bus due to arrive in the upcoming week.

"They understand OneOrlando [because] they understand Boston Strong," said Matthew Friedman, director of marketing communications for Lynx.

"My hope for this design is that it will help the community heal," Casa said. "It's a tough time, and we want people to know we're all in this together."

Lynx has also started an internal company website to collect money that will be donated to the OneOrlando fund.

"This was such a small token of what we could do to show our spirit as well as get the message out to our entire community: We are a unified Orlando," Johnson said.

"We enhance people's lives everyday through passion, pride, and performance."

Dear Elected Officials:

I know that I am just one small voice, but I also know if I feel this passionately about something that I should speak up. I was less than 10 miles away from the deadliest mass shooting in the history of the United States of America. I try to keep putting it out of my head, but when I go into my internship, I see those who were affected by this. When I go to school, I see those who were affected by this. I demand to know what is going to be done. I am scared. I am traumatized. I am upset. WHY IS NOTHING GETTING DONE?
I understand if people want to have handguns in their homes to protect their families. But do we need to make automatic weapons capable of killing many people in seconds available to the general population – so easy, in fact, that it only takes less than 10 minutes to buy one at a gun store?! The fact that buying an automatic weapon is as easy as buying a pack of cigarettes is crazy to me. Are we going to start selling bombs at CVS as well? Is this even real right now? Tell me what is happening. Something needs to be changed NOW. Not tomorrow, right now. SERIOUSLY. Now. Now. Now. Or do we have to wait until the next most-deadly-ever shooting?
I'm not overreacting. It's not like I'm worried about getting struck by lightning. It's not like I'm worried about dying in a plane crash. It's not like I'm worried about something happening that is out of my control and is a one-in-a-million event. I'm worried about something that keeps happening and nothing is getting done about it. Please. Do something about this NOW. Before it's your friend, loved one, or you who isn't so lucky.

Salvation Army Expands Services to Families & Responders of Orlando Tragedy

June 15, 2016
Kevin Smith | kevin.smith@uss.salvationarmy.org

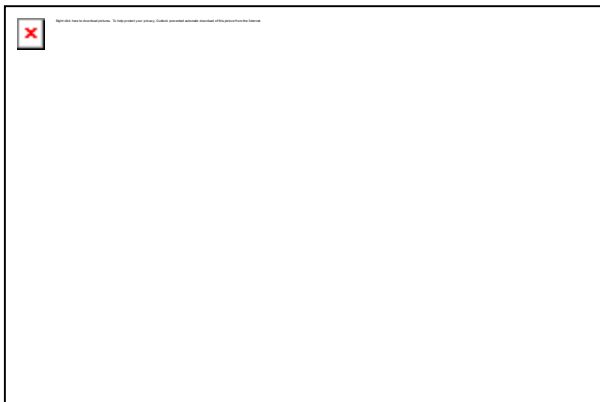

Photo: Florida Governor Rick Scott visits with a Salvation Army disaster worker serving law-enforcement personnel near The Pulse nightclub.

Orlando, FL - The Salvation Army disaster response teams from the Orlando and Sanford corps continue to provide support to first responders and families at The Pulse nightclub, providing food, drinks, and emotional and spiritual care.

"Yesterday was a day of transition as we worked with the local, state, and federal teams to ensure the safety of the personnel on the ground," said Major Ted Morris, Salvation Army Orlando Area Commander. "With the heat index reaching into triple digits yesterday, people need to stay hydrated. Heat exhaustion is a serious concern."

Providing food and drinks is a core service of The Salvation Army, and while food service will continue, the more critical need is hydration. In addition to its mobile canteens, The Salvation Army has also mobilized three Polaris utility task vehicles (UTVs) to more effectively distribute water and sports drinks to responder personnel throughout the secure area. With streets blocked off to traffic, the Polaris UTVs have allowed teams to get resources to responders more efficiently, ensuring the safety of more than three hundred local, state, and federal personnel.

Major Ted Morris and Mr. Kelvin Coachman, Salvation Army Director of Social Services, are also coordinating with other community organizations to support families at the City of Orlando 'one-stop' assistance center, located at Camping World stadium. The Salvation Army has positioned a second disaster response team at the stadium to provide hydration and snacks to family members seeking information and assistance.

"In the Central Florida community, we support needy families every day, and in the days to come, we need to focus on finding resources for all those coping with this tragedy," said Major Morris. "Comfort may come in the forms of either financial assistance or physical aid, like hydration and snacks, but we also know that many of these families need to know that we care deeply and we grieve with them in their loss."

The Salvation Army urges organizations wishing to partner in helping families recover to contact us at 407-423-8581. Individuals, outside of Orlando, who wish to contribute may call 1-800-SAL-ARMY or text "Orlando" to 41444.

"Yesterday, we received a generous donation of Gatorade and snacks from our local Sam's Club," said Gene Daniels, Director of Operations at The Salvation Army Area Command. "We were able to get that Gatorade immediately to the responders on scene thanks to our Polaris units and volunteers on the ground. This is why we are here, showing the support and appreciation that we all feel for their efforts."

Please continue to pray for the Orlando community.

About The Salvation Army

I know you are busy, and I hesiated to write but...

NYC erred in showing fear and weakness after 9/11 when the built the WTC funky twisted tower. A better show of remembrance would have been to build it twice as tall in the same place and same dominating look. That would tell our foes we will go bigger and atronger if you hurt us.

How about a Pulse Tower in Orlando rising above the city to tell the world, we grieve deeply for our losses, but we then rise up to new heights. Our enemies are impressed by tall buildings. An "in your face" Pulse Tower would focus attention, celebrate our precious lost souls, and tell the world Orlando wont be crushed by the cruel.

I know private times are tough now, but surely the world around, even our Muslim friends all over, even in Saudi, Trumps, Rockefellers, et al might feel some need to support LIFE in Orlando. If not, perhaps a spanking new govt building combining city, county, state, and feds rising, yes- 305 meters+ above O, named Pulse Tower. Time to quit shaking in our boots. Stand Tall Orlando!

I am not pro gay, but I am pro-living, and I'll bet few would resist Pulse Tower-a testament to life, EVERYONE'S life!

The park in front of the Dr. Phillips Performing Arts Ctr is the size of 3 football fields and just down the road (within 1/2 a mile) from the Pulse Night Club massacre. What a wonderful park to be dedicated to the dead and wounded. Name it the Pulse of Orlando Park and a memorial for the dead and wounded with a reflexion pond in the center.

Subject: Protection for Funerals of Pulse Nightclub Victims

Dear Mayor Dyer,

It has come to my attention that the Westboro Baptist Church will be sending a contingent of their followers to Florida to protest and interfere with the funerals of the victims of the Pulse nightclub shooting. In light of the magnitude of this horrific event, I can't help but wonder if the governor's office can take some action to protect the families of victims from having to deal with this insult to human decency. I realize that the Westboro folks are protected by the first amendment, but perhaps it would be possible to cordon off areas immediately around the funeral homes so that protestors could not exercise their first amendment rights at the expense of the grief of the families and friends who have already suffered so much. I am not a Floridian and I do not know any of the victims. It just seems the decent thing to do, in light of this tragedy, to protect the dignity of those who have been lost.

Thank you for your time.

Respectfully,

Patti O'Shell

Subject: Michael Collins Eagle Scout Project

Dear Mayor Dyer,

My name is Michael Collins, and I am a rising junior at Boone High School and a member of Boy Scout Troop 24. I have recently begun working on my Eagle Project, which is the commissioning of a life-size bronze statue in honor of the fallen officers of the Orlando Police Department. The statue will be placed outside of the new Orlando Police Station, which is currently under construction. I have created a website, <http://michaelcollins24.wix.com/eagleproject>, which contains a short video explaining my project, pictures of the proposed statue, and information on donating. I also have a Facebook page, <https://www.facebook.com/OPD.memorial.eagle.project/>, to provide project updates and information on its process. The fundraising goal for my project is $45,000.

The statue that I wish to commission is a thank you to the past and present members of the Orlando Police Department and a reminder of the dangers they face on the job. I am asking the citizens of Orlando to join with me in making this statue a reality. I will gladly present my project to church groups, community gatherings, or clubs. My first fundraising event will be selling snow cones at Lake Eola on the Fourth of July during the Fireworks at the Fountain event.

Please view my website and share my Facebook page with your constituents, as social media is a valuable tool for reaching large numbers of people.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions about my project or if you have a group in mind to whom I would be able to give my presentation.

I will be glad to present my project to you as well. I will be out of town on a Boy Scout trip until June 26th but will respond to any questions that you may have upon my return. Thank you!

Sincerely,

This is the intent of pacs and what the others I have done have been acknowledged for. At no time did I ever consider what the our pac, specifically the plaza, has stood for the last 4 days. It has become a center for life, for remembrance, hopefully for recovery and and a renewal of all the good things in life. This is symbolized by the ever growing memorial and captured forever with the video of the President's trip here. The City of Orlando and the Dr Phillips PAC should be extremely proud about how it has reacted to this horrible tragedy.

Subject: DESTROY ISIS AND ISLAMIST TERRORISM WITHOUT BLOODSHED

Mayor Buddy Dyer: I appreciate the turmoil in emotions and recovery. Civilization is in panic. Experts specialty solutions flood the mix that solves nothing, just expand the problem. THIS IS THE ONLY METHOD TO CRUSH ISIS AND ISLAMIC TERRORISM.

Of 16 million WWII American military only 855,070 of us still live but who die at 492 daily. Time is precious. I have been snubbed in hundreds of attempts to find ONE person with the sense and courage to help me air this. Please folks, give this an unbiased review and help win global peace.

The greatest pastime in what we call civilization is killing one another. Starting from evolution of first human ancestors it was, I have a fist—I have a rock, I have a club—I have a spear and morphed into I have an H-bomb—I have a hundred. We stumble toward Armageddon.

I knew before I published this paper the world of myth had thousands of years embedment before science took it apart. We can continue down the path of killing each other with new and larger methods OR reverse that path and transform earth into our paradise. I need fearless leaders to shoulder my quest. I trust women to fulfill that role much more than males.

How about no more war? How about shedding killing one another since beginning of time based upon myths and greed for power by a very few? I know the shock this brings but truth often hurts. Give this old fart your attention and if I meet your common sense finish my quest.

I am a 90-year old American who stands in the last row of the Greatest Generation, is a WWII veteran of the Pacific Theater, who rejected religion as a kid when my 6-year old buddy drowned and had to be rescued from hell by a priest—paid with donations in a pot next to the casket. I will send one of my early papers next.

Planet earth was born as a glob from the sun approximately 4.5 to 4.6 billion years ago and evolved to our home. Life on earth also evolved when the first microscopic eukaryotes appeared about 1.4 billion years ago; life-forms with soft parts about 650 million years ago; land plants appeared roughly 400 million years ago and earth's oxygen levels reached today's values.

Our first ancestors were terrified by nature's tantrums and turned to leaders for explanation and protection. Opportunists obliged and gathered power over their followers. That pattern expanded to sects, religions, nations, alliances, etc. that struggle to rule the earth today. But no more.

We can examine the universe and earth from space armed with a rapidly expanding treasure of science and facts. Fantasy gives way to truth.

OBAMA'S FOREIGN POLICY IS SPEAK, SEE AND HEAR NO EVIL. ISIS THRIVES.

My message is complete but lies inert without an outlet to be heard/seen. I need a champion to exposes it to all the world. Please offer a hand.

Confrontations are accelerating in frequency and regions moving toward all-out war. I block that path by shifting critical deliberations from myths thousands of years old to 21st century irrefutable scientific facts.

Science tracked earth's origin and changes from a blob spun off by the sun 4.54 billion years ago to today's earth. Science unearthed the evolution of our ancestors and their dispersal around the globe. It lays to rest stories of creation--the core cause driving most of earth's current mayhem.

Most of the world is absorbed in conventional actions of conferences, debates, censures, sanctions, occupation, wars, etc. Meanwhile, carnage is historic with random killing of thousands of people by radical Islamists and wanton destruction of homes, antiquities, factories, businesses, farmland, etc. shatter orderly life and efforts to save earth. This solution will stop it.

Who we are depends upon where we were the first few years of our lives. Little children cannot reason and will accept input from most anyone without challenge. It handicaps future reaction to change since first information forms deepest roots becoming most difficult to abandon. This proposal fights that using only proven facts.

Religion has fostered violence and wars throughout history. Currently nations are scrambling for new alliances, strategies, actions, financing and resources for global war against ISIS and more broadly, Islamic terrorism. America's current focus is on elections where adults act as children and will not focus on solutions to the world's major problems. As usual the American public must face the task to debate, decide and act.

As usual opportunistic world leaders jockey for personal and national expansion and power—not global solutions. If we continue the current direction Armageddon appears likely. It need not end that way. Earth's people must coalesce and demand a halt to eternal conflict, adopt 21st century science and revelations and renew earth to peace, prosperity and peaceful lives for all..

Ignored in the current madness are quantum leaps in science including genetic engineering to restructure/replace faulty genes, clone and replace organs, create medicines tailored to eradicate disease; expand the reach of technology like 3-D printing, global laser surgery via internet; improve food supply with newly modified methods, equipment, plants, etc. as did Luther Burbank.

Four resources combine to maximize perspective and solutions: all those above plus the National Geographic Society Genome Project, the Hubble telescope and Socrates who set the method to view and solve global problems.

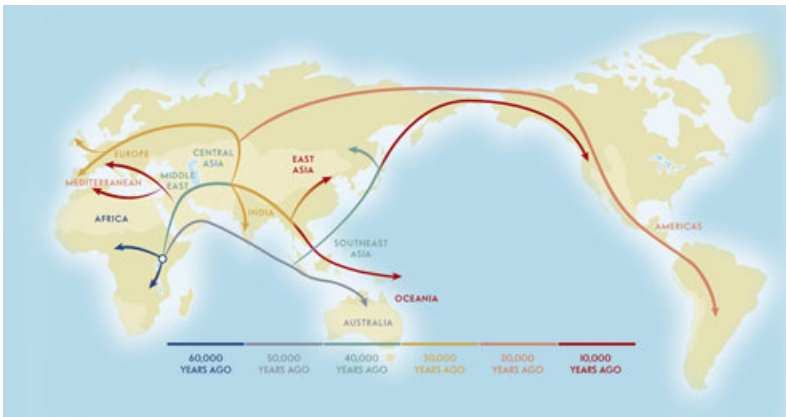

"Man must rise above the Earth—to the top of the atmosphere and beyond—for only thus will he fully understand the world in which he lives". Socrates, Greek philosopher, 469-399 B.C.

Throughout history until recently our only view of space was up. Lightning, red moon, tornados all were assigned gods that needed appeasement. Our view of earth was limited to mountain tops and balloons. That all changed.

From undreamed heights high above the atmosphere the Hubble telescope furnishes views and perspectives throughout space for earthlings to gaze, ponder, correct assumptions of our origin and develop solutions for earth's survival.

"The human genome, the blueprint that describes how to make another version of you, is huge. It's composed of billions of sub-units called nucleotides, repeated in a long, linear code that contains all of your biological information. You got your DNA from your parents, who got it from theirs and on for millions of generations to the very beginning of life on earth." National Geographic Genome Project Out of Africa SCIENCE

Somewhere between 80,000 and 50,000 years ago, Africa saved Homo sapiens from extinction. Charting the DNA shared by more than six billion people, a population geneticist—and director of the Genographic Project—suggests what humanity "owes" its first home. By Spencer Wells July 2007

by Joyce Pendola

Do you think you know who you are? Maybe Irish, Italian, Jewish, Chinese, or one of the dozens of other hyphenated Americans that make up the United States melting pot? Think deeper—beyond the past few hundred years. Back beyond genealogy, where everyone loses track of his or her ancestry—back in that dark, mysterious realm we call prehistory. What if I told you every single person in America—every single person on earth—is African? With a small scrape of cells from the inside of anyone's cheek, the science of genetics can even prove it.

Here's how it works. The human genome, the blueprint that describes how to make another version of you, is huge. It's composed of billions of sub-units called nucleotides, repeated in a long, linear code that contains all of your biological information. Skin color, hair type, the way you metabolize milk: it's all in there. You got your DNA from your parents, who got it from theirs, and so on, for millions of generations to the very beginning of life on earth. If you go far enough back, your genome connects you with bacteria, butterflies, and barracuda—the great chain of being linked together through DNA.

What about humanity, though? What about creatures you would recognize as being like you if they were peering over your shoulder right now? It turns out that every person alive today can trace his or her ancestry back to Africa. Everyone's DNA tells a story of a journey from an African homeland to wherever you live. You may be from Cambodia or County Cork but you are carrying a map inside your genome that describes the wanderings of your ancestors as they moved from the savannas of Africa to wherever your family came from most recently. This is thanks to genetic markers—tiny changes that arise rarely and spontaneously as our DNA is copied and passed down through the generations—which serve to unite people on ever older branches of the human family tree. If you share a marker with someone, you share an ancestor with him or her at some point in the past: the person who's DNA first had the marker that defines your shared lineage. These markers can be traced to relatively specific times and places as humans moved across the globe. The farther back in time and the closer to Africa we get, the more markers we all share.

What set these migrations in motion? Climate change—today's big threat—seems to have had a long history of tormenting our species. Around 70,000 years ago it was getting very nippy in the northern part of the globe, with ice sheets bearing down on Seattle and New York; this was the last Ice Age. At that time, though, our species, Homo sapiens, was still limited to Africa; we were very much homebodies. But the encroaching Ice Age, perhaps coupled with the eruption of a super-volcano named Toba, in Sumatra, dried out the tropics and nearly decimated the early human population. While Homo sapiens can be traced to around 200,000 years ago in the fossil record, it is remarkably difficult to find an archaeological record of our species between 80,000 and 50,000 years ago, and genetic data suggest that the population eventually dwindled to as few as 2,000 individuals. Yes, 2,000—fewer than fit into many symphony halls. We were on the brink of extinction.

And then something happened. It began slowly, with only a few hints of the explosion to come: The first stirrings were art—tangible evidence of advanced, abstract thought—and a significant improvement in the types of tools humans made. Then, around 50,000 years ago, all hell broke loose. The human population began to expand, first in Africa, then leaving the homeland to spread into Eurasia. Within a couple of thousand years we had reached Australia, walking along the coast of South Asia. A slightly later wave of expansion into the Middle East, around 45,000 years ago, was aided by a brief damp period in the Sahara. Within 15,000 years of the exodus from Africa our species had entered Europe, defeating the Neanderthals in the process. (Neanderthals are distant cousins, not ancestors; our evolutionary lineages have been separate for more than 500,000 years.) We had also populated Asia, learning to live in frigid temperatures not unlike those on the Moon, and around 15,000 years ago we walked across a short-lived, icy land bridge to enter the Americas—the first hominids ever to set foot on the continents of the Western Hemisphere. Along the way we kept adapting to new climates, in some cases lost our dark tropical skin pigmentation, developed different languages, and generated the complex tapestry of human diversity we see around the world today, from Africa to Iceland to Tierra del Fuego. But the thing that set it all in motion, the thing that saved us from extinction, happened first in Africa.

Some anthropologists call it the Great Leap Forward, and it marked the true origin of our species—the time when we started to behave like humans.

Africa gave us the tool we needed, in the form of a powerful, abstract mind, to take on the world (and eventually to decode the markers in our DNA that make it possible to track our amazing journeys). Perhaps just a few small genetic mutations that appeared around 50,000 years ago gave humans the amazing minds we use to make sense of the confusing and challenging world around us. Using our incredible capacity to put abstract musing into practice, we have managed to populate every continent on earth, in the process increasing the size of our population from a paltry few thousand to more than six billion. Now, 50 millennia after that first spark, times have changed. A huge number of things have contributed to Africa's relative decline on the world stage, perhaps most important geography. As Jared Diamond describes in his masterly book Guns, Germs, and Steel, Eurasia, with its East-West axis, allowed the rapid latitudinal diffusion of ideas and tools that would give its populations a huge advantage after the initial leap out of Africa. Couple that with the results of colonial exploitation over the past five centuries, and Africa, despite many strengths and resources, is once again in need, as it was 70,000 years ago. This time, though, things are different.

The world population that was spawned in Africa now has the power to save it. We are all alive today because of what happened to a small group of hungry Africans around 50,000 years ago. As their good sons and daughters, those of us who left, whether long ago or more recently, surely have a moral imperative to use our gifts to support our cousins who stayed. It's the least we can do for the continent that saved us all thousands of years ago.

Dr. Spencer Wells is explorer-in-residence at the National Geographic Society and the director of the Genographic Project. End of text. .

Who was wrong, God or writers of Genesis?

God would have known people would inhabit both North and South poles in the future where one day per year occurs versus 365 elsewhere.

God would have known people would travel to, from plus walk on the moon during which night never occurred. One very long day.

God would have known people in a space station would circle earth several times every 24 hours creating several days/nights for them.

God would have known science would eventually open an eye into the universe. The Hubble telescope has exposed an expanding universe in details unimaginable mere decades ago. A universe so vast it is only measurable in terms of billions of light years. A turbulent place where stars are born, live and die by the billions. Galaxies collide. Earth is a speck inside the Milky Way. We have not connected to any other life.

REALITY; Approximately 4,200 religions exist today. Which,

There are thousands of religions and sects in the world. Which, if any, is the right one? The battle between Islamic Sunni and Shite believers is century's old and spread to global impact. Today's radical Islamist terrorists originated in recent history. They began with teenage King Abdul al Sa'ud, a historic figure worthy of study.

From his teens he conducted a lifelong battle to establish and maintain his Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, traditions and customs plus accommodate rapid change and pressures from the industrial world. His small military faced his most crucial battle and required reinforcements recruited from the most fearsome, dedicated and loyal tribe.

"In the early 1920's he launched a personal campaign among the Bedouin. [1] "To that end he planted and fostered Fanaticism in the Ikhwan tribesmen to hate every non-Wahhabi as agents of the devil; fear no earthly power and to welcome death as the gateway to paradise. It worked and was a main factor in establishing the permanent Kingdom of Saudi Arabia. But when they encountered British planes and armored cars they were slaughtered. Seventh century means met 20th century power and caught up with the King." King Abdul al Sa'ud regretted his actions. [1] (Robert Lacey's book, The Kingdom, Arabia and the House of Saud. AVON 1982).

REALITY: Willing ISIS recruits are promised Paradise immediately upon killing non-Islamic believers and dying in the act. Most other religions are promised Heaven for obeying dictates and an exemplary life. Therein lies the problem.

Neither Heaven nor Paradise exist. First is the description of Heaven from the Bible.

Revelations 21:16. "And the city lieth foursquare, and the length is as large as the breadth: and he measured the city with the reed, twelve thousand furlongs. The length and the breadth and the height of it are equal." It has a lid and God resides therein. The dimensions converted to miles shape Heaven as a cube, 1,500 miles long, tall and roofed. Thus It extends 1,440 miles above the atmosphere where life cannot survive. The cube covers nearly all of the U.S.
We really ought to see that.

Second is the description of Paradise from the Holy Qur'an.

- Sura (chapter) 2:82: "But those who have faith and work righteousness, they are companions of the Garden: Therein shall they abide (For ever)."
- 3:133: "Be quick in the race for forgiveness from your Lord, and for a Garden whose width is that (of the whole) of the heavens and of the earth, prepared for the righteous."
- 3:185: "Every soul shall have a taste of death: And only on the Day of Judgment shall you be paid your full recompense. Only he who is saved far from the Fire and admitted to the Garden will have attained the object (of Life): For the life of this world is but goods and chattels of deception."
- 18:107: "As to those who believe and work righteous deeds, they have, for their entertainment, the Gardens of Paradise."
- 39:73: "And those who feared their Lord will be led to the Garden in crowds: until behold, they arrive there; its gates will be opened; and its keepers will say: 'Peace be upon you! well have ye done! enter ye here, to dwell therein'."
- 39:74: "They will say: 'Praise be to God, Who has truly fulfilled His Promise to us, and has given us (this) land in heritage: We can dwell in the Garden as we will: how excellent a reward for those who work (righteousness)!' "
- 47:15: "(Here is) a Parable of the Garden which the righteous are promised: in it are rivers of water incorruptible; rivers of milk of which the taste never changes; rivers of wine, a joy to those who drink; and rivers of honey pure and clear. In it there are for them all kinds of fruits; and Grace from their Lord...."
- Sura 56:1-40 of the Qur'an deals in depth with the Day of Judgment and the rewards that await persons who have led a good life.

- 56:15-21: "[They will sit] on gold-encrusted thrones of happiness, reclining upon them, facing one another in [love]. Immortal youths will wait upon them with goblets, and ewers, and cups filled with water from unsullied springs by which their minds will not be clouded and which will not make them drunk; and with fruit of any kind that they choose, and with flesh of any fowl that they may desire."
- 56:22-26: "And [accompanying them will be their] companions pure, most beautiful of eye, like unto pearls hidden in their shells. [This will be] a reward for what they did [during life]. No empty talk will they hear there, nor any call to sin, but only the tiding of inner soundness and peace."
- 56:27-33: "Now as for those who have attained to righteousness- what of those who have attained to righteousness? [They too will find themselves] amidst fruit-laden lote-trees, and acacias flower-clad, and shade extended, and waters gushing, and fruit abounding, never-failing and never out of reach."
- 56:34-37: "And [with them will be their] spouses, raised high; for behold, We shall have brought them into being in a life renewed, having resurrected them as virgins, full of love, well matched to those who have attained to righteousness"
- Surah 55 discusses the presence of "hūr." They have most commonly been considered to be Houris -- beautiful virgins:
 - 55:70: "In them will be fair [Maidens], good, beautiful."
 - 55:72: "Maidens restrained [as to their glances], in [goodly] pavilions."
 - 55:74: "Whom no man or Jinn before them has touched."

Janna (Paradise, Heaven) is called by eight names in the Qur'an: Jannatu al-Khuld, Darul as-Salam, Darul al-Qarar, Jannatu al-`Adn, Jannatu al-Ma`wa, Jannatu an-Na`im, `Illiyin, and Jannatu al-Firdaus. Janna is the Arabic word for "garden." ¹ They have been translated into English as: paradise, a garden on high, a home that will last, garden of eternity, garden of everlasting bliss, gardens of delight, home of peace, home of the righteous, etc. ²

The Prophet Muhammad is quoted as saying that everyone will see God on the Day of Resurrection, as easily as one can see the sun when there are no clouds. ³

There will be no sickness, pain, sadness or death there. The Prophet Muhammad said that there are things in Paradise "which no eye has seen no ear has heard and no human mind has thought of." ⁴

- Surah 44:51-55 and 52:17-20 state that the men in Paradise will enter marriage with the Houris.

Jinns are living entities that God created from "a smokeless flame of fire." ⁵ They are invisible to the human eye but marry, produce children, eat, drink, and die like all other creatures in the universe." ^{7,8}

In his commentary on Surah 55:72, Ibn Kathir (d. 1373 CE) stated: "The Prophet Muhammad was heard saying: 'The smallest reward for the people of paradise is an abode where there are 80,000 servants and 72 wives, over which stands a dome decorated with pearls, aquamarine, and ruby, as wide as the distance from Al-Jabiyah [a Damascus suburb] to Sana'a [Yemen]'." ⁹

Who is eligible for entry into Paradise:

Entry to Paradise is limited to those who believe in God and his messengers, and who have led a good life on earth. In the Qur'an:

- Surah 2:25: "And give good news [O Muhammad] to those who believe and do good deeds, that they will have gardens [Paradise] in which rivers flow...."
- Surah 4:57: "But those who believe and do good deeds, We will admit them to gardens (Paradise) in which rivers flow, lasting in them forever...."
- Surah 57:21: "Race one with another for forgiveness from your Lord and for Paradise, whose width is as the width of the heavens and the earth, which has been prepared for those who believe in God and His messengers...."

Presumably Agnostics, Atheists, Polytheists, and followers of non-Abrahamic religions will be denied access to Paradise because they lack belief. NOW-- BACK TO SAVING OUR EARTH FROM DESTRUCTION.

Earth's atmosphere is only 60 miles deep. Think of a town or feature 60 miles from your location and imagine it's vertical reach into the sky. A scaled version equals one layer of saran wrap on a basketball. Beyond 60 miles life cannot exist unless maintained by artificial means. We are earth's greatest threat. We are consumed in world domination; reckless mistreatment of land, air, water and resources; exploding population through ignorance or intent to outsize neighboring countries. STOP!

We must pivot, lay down turmoil, eliminate ignorance by education, switch attitudes and bias to dedicate ourselves, resources and leadership to make earth the heaven we dream of. Science and facts must replace myths and devious use thereof for power.

Science allows us to clone life, grow and replace body parts, correct faulty genes in every living thing, neuter many diseases, invent, produce, grow food, etc. etc. Internet exposes and creates interface for all people to express opinions and answers.

Eternal life is near at hand. Time for everybody to get a cheek swab and your genome model stored, ready for resurrection.

Various studies to estimate the number of galaxies in the universe vary from 200 to 800 billion. The vastness of space is best appreciated when distance out there is described in light years.

The speed of light is 186,282 miles per second. Multiply that times 31,556,926 seconds in a year. It equals 5,880,000,000,000 or 5.88 trillion miles. That is ONE LIGHT YEAR. The universe boggles the mind as we focus on one galaxy---ours---The Milky Way. Buried inside resides Spaceship Earth, our home.

Now you know how unique and precious our little blue marble is. All our attempts to contact life elsewhere have failed. We are alone! Why don't we leave it at that? Why advertise? What if a far more sophisticated planet in death throes needs a new home and a spaceship is on its way?

Since November 2000, alternate crews in the Space Station orbit earth at 5 miles per second or 90 minutes per lap. They have not reported an angel, god, heaven or paradise—just endless space. Google the Hubble gallery and gasp.

WELCOME TO OUR GALAXY THE MILKY WAY AND TEENY PLANET EARTH—ALONE IN THE UNIVERSE

We can continue our disheveled way of life engulfed in human made crises and hostility with a terrible end. Or, we can adopt REALITY and TRUTH determined to save Spaceship Earth and turn our wrath against tyranny wherever it is found.

Below, focus on our teeny Spaceship Earth with finite quantities of space, resources, land, water, clean air, food, etc. Look hard and visualize the horrific carnage going on, poverty, ignorance, greed, brutality, crime, depravity, over population, etc. This is our home. Imagine what it can become through global education, lifting the poorest, protecting our 60-mile deep atmosphere that protects us and accepting the fact we are one family. We are all Africans!

HOW CLEAR THE SKY MINUS HEAVEN AND OR PARADISE. SEEING IS BELIEVING

Earth needs global leadership from women and men that possess standards, qualities, wisdom, priorities and dedication. By nature they will place themselves last and poorest first, reject bribes, be constant, trustworthy and love people and earth.

Shortly after the end of World War II, the scientists who developed the atomic bombs dropped on Japan tried to envision the kind of nuclear event that could lead to the destruction of not just cities, but the entire world.

A declassified document shared by nuclear historian Alex Wellerstein gives the verdict that scientists at the Los Alamos laboratory and test site reached in 1945. They found that “it would require only in the neighborhood of 10 to 100 Supers of this type” to put the human race in peril.

The world’s current rush to acquire or enlarge H-bomb holdings is terrifying. We know rulers of Russia, North Korea, China, Iran, and many others are egoists, starved for world domination and reckless who may trigger nuclear war without regard for consequences. They need replacement with leaders who put their citizens first and earth alongside.

Earth staggers toward becoming a nuclear wasteland. We must stop it. Who will lead! Global revolution must occur to put earth before tyranny. We have numbers and collective power to rescue our Little Blue Marble as our eternal home.

SUMMATION:

To those bent on ruling earth, are you so ignorant you don't know 370,000 babies are born each day? 7.3 billion people occupy earth now and the United Nations estimates it rises to 9.6 billion by 2050? You believe you will rule and subjugate them? Every prior effort has failed.

There is neither hell nor devil beneath earth's crust, only magma like that oozing in Hawaii. Hell is created atop earth's surface by the worst of humanity. They must be overcome and obliterated that we can become one family.

If you have facts proving me wrong please correct, ridicule and shame me not by death but honest debate. I come in peace wanting a new world that awaits us, a permanent home for one family out of Africa with liberty and justice for all.

The First Life on Earth

Earth was able to support life only after the planet had cooled enough for a rocky crust to solidify. Once that happened, water vapor from volcanoes condensed in the atmosphere, fell as rain, and collected on the Earth's surface. Besides water vapor, volcanoes also produced gases rich in the basic ingredients of life: carbon, hydrogen, oxygen, and nitrogen. Toxic gases such as ammonia and methane were common. At this point, Earth's early atmosphere consisted entirely of these volcanic gases, and there was no free oxygen. In the primordial "soup" of the early seas, organic molecules concentrated, formed more complex molecules, and became simple cells.

The transition from complex organic molecules to living cells could have occurred in several environments. Small, warm ponds are one possibility, but recent work has suggested that deep-sea hydrothermal vents, such as those found along mid-ocean spreading centers today, may have been the cradle of Earth's life. These environments contain the chemicals and the source of energy needed to synthesize more complex organic structures. Although scientists have not succeeded in creating life from organic molecules in the laboratory, they have reproduced many of the intermediate steps.

So what were the first living things and when did they appear? Studies of genetic material indicate that a living group of single-celled organisms called Archaea may share many features with early life on Earth. Many Archaea now live in hot springs, deep-sea vents, saline water, and other harsh environments. If the first organisms resembled modern Archaea, they also may have lived in such places, but direct evidence for early life is controversial because it is difficult to distinguish between complex inorganic structures and simple biological ones in the geologic record. The oldest evidence for life may be 3.5-billion-year-old sedimentary structures from Australia that resemble stromatolites. Stromatolites are created today by living mats of microorganisms (mostly cyanobacteria, or blue-green algae). These primitive organisms trap thin layers of sediment with their sticky filaments and grow upward to get light for photosynthesis

Please reply soon. I cannot waste an entire weekend. I need your helping hand. Most grateful, Bill Kelly

Subject: Urgent

Hi Mr. Mayor,

First, I want you to know that I share in the pain and the shock of the citizens of Orlando, and my heart is with the bereaved families and the wounded.

Terror is not something new to me.

I moved from Vancouver BC to live in Israel, that suffers more terror, year after year, than any other democratic, 1st world country.

With a $100,000 donation in 2001, I started an organization, called The OneFamily Fund, which provides a comprehensive individualized care for every member of each family, based on each one's unique circumstances. We are providing our services (detailed below) today, to 2,800 families, numbering approximately 10,000 people. We have a staff of 46, located in four geographically divided regions of Israel

We are by far Israel's largest private foundation providing for the needs of every one of Israel's victims of terror, who chooses to receive it.

We provide the following:

- Financial grants based needs,
- Kids healing Camps, three times a year, for over 600 bereaved children under 18.
- A young adults division with over 700 men and women from the ages of 22 to 35 with 750 participants
- a bereaved Parents division with over 1,000 parents.
- a division for kids who lost both parents.
- a widow and widowers division with over 300 people
- two wounded divisions, divided by age for a few thousand of the wounded.
- A "professional friend" is assigned to each individual, which is run by professionals and a large cadre of volunteers

All of this is based on 15 years of experience, and over $45.0 million dollars of charitable distributions in cash or services.

I believe OneFamily has a lot to offer the community of wounded and bereaved in your Orlando, financially, emotionally, psychologically and more.

I also believe we could very helpful is raising the size of the fund through our personal contacts, Hollywood contacts and a viral marketing campaign.

We would be glad to help you in setting up the programs we have developed here during our 15 years of experience. Our comprehensive care for for the "victims" of terror or, as many prefer to call themselves, the "heroic survivors" of terror will change the lives for the better of every one involved. And we would be happy, through our contacts, to raise funds for their care and perhaps even enough for future attacks.

OneFamily received The President of Israel's award for volunteerism in 2011.

OneFamily has the public Endorsement of Israel's Prime Minister, Minister of Education, Minister of Defense, Minister of health and welfare as well as Israel's Ambassadors to the United States and the United Nations.
The former Mayor of Miami Beach, David Dermer, can also serve as a reference.

I appreciate the time you have taken to read this letter.
I hope we can be in touch to very soon to further develop this proposal.
Time is of the essence.

Sincerely
Marc Belzberg

Subject: About that filibuster:

Friend --

Yesterday, stretching into the early hours of this morning, 38 senators took to the floor of the Senate for 15 hours demanding that something be done in Congress to stop the epidemic of gun violence in this country.

They won. In the coming days, the Senate will vote on important steps like expanding background checks, and closing the so called "Terror Gap" loophole, which would prevent someone on the FBI's terror watch list from purchasing a deadly firearm.

Say you stand with these kinds of common-sense solutions to gun violence.

The conversation around preventing gun violence is changing. Senators who vote with the gun lobby are under increasing pressure, and these votes will put them on the record.

There's more that can be done. Our public health researchers shouldn't be prevented from researching how best to prevent these tragedies. Weapons of war shouldn't be allowed on our streets or in our communities. No law will prevent every tragedy, but if we can prevent even one, we should act.

Doing nothing is not an option. Speak up now:

Subject: Question

I truly appreciate you taking the time to read this in this time of stress and turmoil. I have a question that I did not want to pose on social media at the risk of being attacked. Going to the source was my immediate option.

There are a lot of funds in place right now. The biggest one being the Orlando fund. Where will this money go? Will it go to the families of the victims? To Pulse and its employees? To the first responders and the hospital staff? To the family of Christina Grimme, shot and killed two nights earlier? Orlando itself, as a city, did not suffer a huge financial loss. It suffered no devastating natural disaster.

Where will this money go??

Thank you again for your time.

Thank you Buddy for such a lovely response to my email. I honestly didn't expect a reply, never mind such a heart felt one!

I understand what you mean when you talk about the people, employees of the city, and ordinary citizens. I was made so welcome both in Lakeland and Orlando! One of your taxi cab drivers helped me escape an abusive relationship by helping me get to the airport safely, right to the flight gate! (Long story! ·)

I am sure that Orlando will keep its wonderful reputation intact! I hope to return to Orlando with family under more pleasant circumstances next summer!

I wish only good things for the citizens of your wonderful city. May you all recover from this awful event! If there is anything I can do to help, please do not hesitate to ask. It's at times like this we all need to be united!

Best wishes

Dear Liz,

The words thank you seem woefully inadequate for the outpouring of support I have received from so many people like you for the people of Orlando. From all over the world the personal words of kindness and support and offers of assistance have served to hearten, sustain and strengthen all of us. Thank you.

This past Sunday was the most horrific day in the history of the City of Orlando. And yet, I have never been more proud of our community because of the way they have come together, united with a singular focus of supporting the families and friends of the victims. Our hearts are broken for the family and friends of those we lost.

The heroic acts of our Orlando Police Department as well as other law enforcement, and the actions of our citizens no doubt saved lives throughout that night. The medical personnel in our City were tireless as they worked to save the lives of those transported to their hospital. They are heroes.

I cannot overstate the gratitude I have for the dedication of our City employees. Through long hours, they have helped in every way possible to lead our City through this weekend's events.

We will be a better City because of this. We will not be defined by the act of a cowardly hater. We will be defined by how we respond, how we treat each other.

Subject: The Coca-Cola Foundation donation

Good evening Mayor Dyer, Frank and Kathy,

On behalf of our 550+ Coca-Cola Orlando associates and the entire Coca-Cola system, we'd like to express our deepest sympathy in the wake of this weekend's tragedy. And though tragic and incomprehensible, it's amazing to see the community support and outpour of compassion being shown this week. Our local team, led by Steve Menosky, was able to provide product donations to first responders, The Centre, UCF and several other stations. We are happy to continue this support based on the communities need. Also, I'm pleased to inform you The Coca-Cola Foundation has awarded Central Florida Foundation a $300,000 grant in support of the One Orlando Fund. The connections have been made with Mark Brewer, who leads Central Florida Foundation, and he'll be connecting with your office.

We at Coca-Cola's believe in strengthening our communities with our People and our Brands, so please let us know how we can be of service going forward.

Sincerely,

Subject: Your message...

Dear Mr. Dyer (may I call you Buddy?):

Thank you so much for your message this afternoon. I have read it several times; your words are deeply moving and inspirational. I watched you, Sheriff Deming, the governor, AG and FBI agents on television on Sunday, and was very impressed by how all of you conducted yourselves in view of such a tragedy. I note that the President himself visited your city today.

I wholeheartedly agree that the first responders, the medical teams and all others involved are true heroes: one can only imagine the emotional strain. It is truly amazing how a terrible thing can bring out the very best in people. Your city will come out on top.

My friends and I hope our videos may bring some solace or comfort to those affected. Our thoughts and prayers are with you all.

Thank you again so much, my friend, for your wonderful letter.

Subject: Fw: 3 Questions To Pounder before You Elect Another Incumbent to Washington D.C. A/K/A District of Criminals, per Michael Synder

Subject: 3 Questions

As we get closer to election you need to pay close attention to these three questions. It is more than , just about you!

FACT...NO MATTER WHO WE VOTE FOR THE BUREAUCRACY WILL STAY IN PLACE....GOVERNMENT MARCHES ON.

3 Questions:

When you vote for an incumbent you are perpetuating our government as it is now. Nothing will change.

Below are 3 short sentences, you may find interesting. These three, short sentences tell you a lot about the direction of our current government and cultural environment:

1.) We are advised NOT to judge ALL Muslims by the actions of a few lunatics, why then are we encouraged to judge ALL gun owners by the actions of a few lunatics?

Funny how that works. And here's another one worth considering.

2.) Seems we constantly hear about how Social Security is going to run out of money. How come we never hear about welfare or food stamps running out of money?

What's interesting is the first group "worked for" their money, but the second didn't.

Think about it..... Last but not least:

3.) Why are we not providing adequate benefits for our veterans, no pay raises for our military and cutting our army to a level lower than before WWII, but we are not stopping payments to illegal aliens such as monthly payments for each child, money for housing, Food Stamps,

free education including college and also the right to vote?

Am I the only one missing something?

Hello Patty,

I want to take a moment and thank you for how you have handled the Orlando/Pulse shooting and to also say that you have represented our LGBT+ community around the world with such honor, dignity, and grace. You may say you are just doing your job but I see you doing so much more than that! You've brought awareness, insight, education, compassion, and comfort to not only Orlando but Earth as a whole. I wish I were writing to you under some other circumstance. I can't imagine a better person with as much integrity, veracity, and tenacity to be the voice of advocacy in this tragedy. If you are ever running for an elected position that I could vote in, you'd have my vote hands down! There is no need to respond, please keep up the excellent work you are doing!

All my gratitude and hopes are with you, Orlando, the victims, and all of our LGBT+ brothers and sisters!

Subject: Celebration of Life and Love

Good morning Mayor,

I am not sure if this email will get to you but I wanted to express an idea. I have recently moved back to Orlando but for years, I have always felt that I was apart of this city. Almost the complete coverage on the news has been the tragedies that has been occurring over the past week with good reason.

I was curious if your office has considered organizing a celebration this weekend. It would be quite the short time to organize but I can imagine that you will not have a hard time finding food trucks, people to donate their time, local restaurants wanting to put up stands, or local bands and possibly big name acts to entertain if you just put the idea out there. There could even be a wall to allow people to write what they think to express their feelings. It would be an opportunity to change the tone of the city. I imagine putting something together for this weekend would be tough or may be perceived as insensitive but I know if something has ever happened to me, I would want people to celebrate my life and focus on loving each other.

Just a thought,

Joe

Importance: High

Good morning Mr. Singh!

I am extremely satisfied with your tribute to all participants in the relief efforts in various forms; the lauding of the outpouring of the principle of “it’s better to give than to receive,” and to advise the exercise of caution in giving. I invite all to join me in reading the following for it will launch a secret in plain sight.

I am praying that doctors will succeed in treating the wounded, and by the grace of God, the Almighty, will prevail to achieve all alive and recovering well. There is a ministry proposing eternal life yet pending for those precious 53 souls.

There is perplexity interwoven in the acts of certainty. Doubt can paralyze any people and bring anxiety; apprehension; haste; fear and decisions not based on evidence. The evidence is not among that to be found by very capable and committed men and women of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) at the scene of the despicable crime but rather summarized in the reports of allegiance and alignment with an ideology that is preeminent; purposed; and passionate.

How many persons who are feeling the pain and anguish, asking questions, seeking a solution or just waiting to make sense of the heinous slaughter since the act of violence, by Mr. Omar Mateen, have opened the pages of the book called the Qur-an? How many have sought among its pages an answer to the events that unfolded, now 96+ hours, at the Pulse Nightclub on 49 precious souls?

My professor and yours too would ask for a citation in support of any substantive statement that did not originate with the student. The same is true for any professional claim and more critical in religion. What says the rules? The proper settling of any dispute relies on clear argument, as words, from a trusted source. The medical examiner relied on words from as many written and photographic sources to confirm testimony of loved ones and failing that, those precious dental records, as well as the reading and comparison of the pulp deoxyribonucleic acid (DNA) ‘word.’ The teeth are extremely durable and hold information, therefore read and solve identification challenges (Saxena, Sharma & Gupta, 2010).

Mr. Mateen was not reported to be a Christian but rather pledging allegiance to an Islamic terror group (Shariatmadari, 2016). Otherwise, the book of instructions for the Saints; the 27 Books of the New Testament of the resurrected Lord and Savior; Jesus Christ would be referenced to understand his thoughts, motivation, and actions. Mr Mateen was alleged to be espoused to the religion of Islam; its subscribers being called Muslims and their revered leader and prophet, to them being, Mr. Muhammad ibn-Adbullah. Later in 622 A.D. he became known as the “Apostle of God” (Payne, 1959, p. 26). Muhammad began a bold, persistent, and feverish campaign to establish the messages from God. God is described as looming large, yet gentle and tenderly loving, but subjects must abide in submission (islam) (pp. 68-

71). His victories outweighed his losses and one net result after his death, the Qur'an; compiled from records of words of his received messages that he was heard to utter (p. 68).

Open the book and see great words of tenderness, gardens of peace, and infinite sustenance as in SURAH III:15; 133-134; XIX: 61-63

But, there is an unrelenting charge to secure all converts to Islam so that there can be peace SURAH VII: 39 (The Qur'an Translation).

It beseeches its followers to not keep friends with Jews and Christians for certainty as "he is one of them; surely Allah does not guide the unjust people" SURAH V: 51 (The Qur'an Translation).

"Fight those who do not believe in Allah . . ." SURAH IX: 29 (The Qur'an Translation). The words do not applaud tolerance for the acts of men with men having left their wives. "Nay, you are a people exceeding limits." SURAH XXVI: 165-172 (The Qur'an Translation).

The vivid contrast of deep love and hate is here respectively SURAH II:195- LOVE and SURAH V: 87-NOT LOVE (The Qur'an Translation).

If Mateen was Muslim, and read as few of the many of the SURAHs here cited, was he not pleasing his prophet in stark contrast with the other emotion of "The Apostle of God?"

Enlighten and comfort one another with these words and urge many who say they accentuate peace and abhor violence to take heed how their manual and guide is read.

Regards

Frank Vassell

A Message From Rick Singh

Your Orange County Property Appraiser

Dear Friends,

I have never been more proud of the residents of Orange County as I am now. Although Orlando was the target of a terrible crime, residents here have shown each other and the world that tolerance and unity can prevail.

On behalf of myself and my staff, I offer condolences to the families, friends and colleagues of the victims. We also salute and give thanks to the heroic acts of the Orlando Police Department and other local law enforcement who did everything they could to stop a horrific and senseless act of violence in our community. To all of the doctors, nurses and citizens who selflessly acted quickly to save the lives of others, we offer our sincerest gratitude. It is also a priority for us to help out the community as much as possible.

We will not allow Orange County to be paralyzed by fear. We will not allow our neighbors to mourn alone. As we move forward to try to heal, it will be together, as a strong, unified force of all that is good in this world.

The City of Orlando has set up a fund for those who would like to help.

The purpose of the Fund is to provide a way to help respond to the needs of our community, now and in the time to come, after the effects of the Pulse nightclub tragedy.

The distribution of the funds will be administered by the Central Florida Foundation. The Foundation serves as the region's community foundation and is home to more than 400 charitable funds.

Subject: Cinema for Peace Foundation in Berlin : symbolic film screening in Orlando.

Dear Mr. Buddy Dyer,

I am writing to you on behalf of Cinema for Peace, a non-profit, NGO striving to promote worldwide peace and understanding through the support of cinematographic works.

We, like millions the world over, were shocked and horrified by the abhorrent actions that took place at Pulse nightclub on Sunday 12th of June. This was an attack on the freedom of LGBT communities. We have also been touched by the vigils and acts of unity that have followed in its wake - reminding that we stand stronger together than divided.

As part of our Cinema for Peace project, we would be very keen to work together to host a film screening in Orlando. We want to create an event which will bring people together at this difficult time, to reflect on what the LGBT community has already faced in the long battle for equal rights, and to spread a message of peace and hope through film. We envisage a screening of a remarkable film on LGBT rights, such as Milk, or an important film on gun control, such as Bowling for Columbine, followed by a panel discussion. We would love to work together with you to host such an event in the next week or so. Is this something you could consider? Or if it does not suit your venue, could you point us in the direction of one that may be willing to participate?

We sincerely thank you for taking the time to consider our proposal. We really want to do what little we can to offer peace and respite through film at this difficult time for your city.

Our Warmest Regards,
Dimitra Moutzouri

Subject: Brexit and the Presidential Election: CFO's Global Risk Management Newsletter

Risk Management Newsletter

Global risks seem to abound right now. At the top of the list for finance people worldwide is “Brexit,” the term for the Britain’s vote on leaving the European Union. Even a highly ranked News Corp. executive is saying Britain should “set itself free from dictatorial Brussels.” The interesting thing about Brexit is the vote results on May 23 may not even matter. Sovereign 10-year bond yields in Europe have already plummeted (Germany’s is negative); the CBOE Volatility Index is up near 20, the danger mark; and crude oil prices are dipping below $50 per barrel again.

CFOs, meanwhile, appear to be shifting a bit in their office chairs. Only 45% of them surveyed by EY recently think the global economy is stabilizing, and only 49% expect the global M&A market to improve over the next 12 months. CFO’s own numbers show that nearly eight in ten (79%) U.S. executives believe that the United States economy faces moderate-to-large political risk. But it’s not Brexit U.S. CFOs are worried about: it’s the upcoming presidential election and Washington’s “gridlock or dysfunction.” Fifty-five percent of CFOs said the political climate has made them more cautious to spend. See the survey story (The Business of Politics) and other global risk management coverage from CFO below.

Dear Mr. Murer,

Thank you for your kind words of support. Sunday was the most horrific day in the history of the City of Orlando. And yet, I am even more proud of our community because they came together, united to support the families and friends of the victims.

We learned of the heroic acts of our Orlando Police Department and other law enforcement, as well as our citizens as hundreds of lives were saved throughout the night. The medical personnel that saved so many lives that were transported to the hospital are heroes.

I am proud of how our City has responded to this tragedy and the dedication our City continues to show.

We will not be defined by the act of a cowardly hater. We will be defined by how we respond, how we treat each other.

Subject: UPDATE: The Leadership of the California Infrastructure Bank Moves the National Needle

An update on a topic I haven't sent around a note on in a while . . . - be in touch if want to know more as advise in this area right now -

The California Infrastructure Bank (I-Bank) recently issued a $400 million plus Green Bond. The proceeds are going to much needed water projects in the state. Given the dire situation caused by the drought, money is being deployed swiftly.

Another Green Bond issuance, perhaps more, is in the works. Green Bonds are increasingly used by governments and companies to invest in forward-looking energy projects. Apple recently issued a $1.5 billion dollar one.

The I-Bank is the only multi-sector infrastructure bank in the country and has lent out well north of $37 billion to-date. It was created by Republican Governor Pete Wilson and is now moving aggressively into Clean Energy under Governor Jerry Brown right now.

I co-chaired the Governor Edmund Brown Jr. Task Force to Modernize the California Infrastructure Bank. After an extensive period of analyzing its lending practices to-date and its statute, as well as conducting broad outreach to key stakeholders including a roadshow to leading Northeastern investors, we made a number of recommendations.

These recommendations have largely been take up. They included:

- 1) Moving the I-Bank from the Treasurer's Office to the Governor's Office so that it could be intimately linked into the Office and its priorities
- 2) Giving it a mandate to carry out Green Infrastructure
- 3) Using its powers to catalyze large scale private investment in public infrastructure
- 4) Increasing its senior level staff so that it had the expertise and breadth of capabilities to carry out a broader intensive set of responsibilities

These recommendations were adopted by the Governor with the first one actually making its way through an unruly deeply divided CA legislature.

The leadership of the I-Bank is doing important innovative leading things right now within the Clean Endrgy and public-private partnership space right now. Nationally important innovative leading.

The issuance of the Green Bond is only the first part of planned program of clean energy infrastructure projects.

The I-Bank established what is called the California Lending for Energy and Environmental Needs Center, what it refers to for short as the CLEEN Center.

The CLEEN Center has broad powers to make clean energy projects happen including through the issuance of Green Bonds, use of loans, loan guarantees, and public-private partnerships catalyzed through credits, insurance and other enhancements.

In a time in which federal support for clean projects is in jeopardy, being rolled back in places or simply not up to the task of funding much needed projects, the I-Bank now has a directive to finance a range of project types including:

1. Renewable Energy
2. Storage Technology
3. Water
4. Alternative Technologies
5. Hydrogen Production
6. Alternative Fuels
7. Transportation
8. Energy Efficiency
9. Industrial Process Efficiency
10. Residential

In the current presidential cycle both the Secretary of State and Mr. Trump have made infrastructure investments a cornerstone of their respective economic platforms.

Recently, we at 32 Advisors held an event, hosted by Shearman & Sterling, on the election and infrastructure investments.

We had a lively discussion about how these commitments might make their way in practice. Happy to share what came out at the event. What is happening in California with the I-Bank warrants a careful review by each of the candidates; it will be of great interest in CA and beyond.

Subject: Urgent

Hi Mr. Mayor,

First, I want you to know that I share in the pain and the shock of the citizens of Orlando, and my heart is with the bereaved families and the wounded.

Terror is not something new to me.

I moved from Vancouver BC to live in Israel, that suffers more terror, year after year, than any other democratic, 1st world country.

With a $100,000 donation in 2001, I started an organization, called The OneFamily Fund, which provides a comprehensive individualized care for every member of each family, based on each one's unique circumstances. We are providing our services (detailed below) today, to 2,800 families, numbering approximately 10,000 people. We have a staff of 46, located in four geographically divided regions of Israel

We are by far Israel's largest private foundation providing for the needs of every one of Israel's victims of terror, who chooses to receive it.

We provide the following:

- Financial grants based needs,
- Kids healing Camps, three times a year, for over 600 bereaved children under 18.
- A young adults division with over 700 men and women from the ages of 22 to 35 with 750 participants
- a bereaved Parents division with over 1,000 parents.
- a division for kids who lost both parents.
- a widow and widowers division with over 300 people
- two wounded divisions, divided by age for a few thousand of the wounded.
- A "professional friend" is assigned to each individual, which is run by professionals and a large cadre of volunteers

All of this is based on 15 years of experience, and over $45.0 million dollars of charitable distributions in cash or services.

I believe OneFamily has a lot to offer the community of wounded and bereaved in your Orlando, financially, emotionally, psychologically and more.

I also believe we could very helpful is raising the size of the fund through our personal contacts, Hollywood contacts and a viral marketing campaign.

We would be glad to help you in setting up the programs we have developed here during our 15 years of experience. Our comprehensive care for for the "victims" of terror or, as many prefer to call themselves, the "heroic survivors" of terror will change the lives for the better of every one involved. And we would be happy, through our contacts, to raise funds for their care and perhaps even enough for future attacks.

OneFamily received The President of Israel's award for volunteerism in 2011.

OneFamily has the public Endorsement of Israel's Prime Minister, Minister of Education, Minister of Defense, Minister of health and welfare as well as Israel's Ambassadors to the United States and the United Nations.
The former Mayor of Miami Beach, David Dermer, can also serve as a reference.

I appreciate the time you have taken to read this letter.
I hope we can be in touch to very soon to further develop this proposal.
Time is of the essence.

Sincerely
Marc Belzberg

Subject: Everytown briefing on the tragedy in Orlando - Summary

Dear Coalition Mayors and Staff,

Thanks to those of you who joined the Everytown briefing call yesterday. We appreciate your time, questions, and dedication to these important issues.

Here are the documents we discussed on the call:

- A fact sheet on Orlando, Hate Crimes, Terrorism, and Weak Gun Laws
- The #DisarmHate social media toolkit and guidelines

As we all grapple with the tragedy in Orlando and approach the 1 year anniversary of Charleston, we cannot ignore that these crimes have a commonality in hatred. And when hatred is armed, it kills. Please use these resources to join our campaign to #disarmhate and make our communities safer.

Feel free to reach out with any additional questions or comments that you have.

As mayors, you also grapple with everyday gun violence that does not receive national news attention. We are excited to share with you our new report Strategies for Reducing Gun Violence in American Cities. These examples of how some of your cities are addressing gun violence will be the start of an ongoing conversation within our coalition of mayors, and with our partners and your constituents about how to address the guns on all of our streets.

Subject: CONDOLENCES ON RECENT TRAGEDIES

Dear Mayor,

I would like to start off by sending my condolences to your city and the people of Orlando. The recent tragedies in Orlando have been absolutely heartbreaking for my family and myself to watch on TV. But the recent alligator attack on the 2 year boy from Nebraska has been bothering me. Unfortunately it usually takes a tragedy before we look at how we can better something or improve it. Now I am sure you have been overwhelmed with emails in the past week. But I feel that if I did not speak out it would lay on my subconscious . I know this is not the first alligator attack and sadly I'm sure it will not be the last. But I feel that it would be very beneficial for any person whether they are from Florida or from out of town. Upon checking in to any resort, hotel, motel etc. that it could become standard that they are given a pamphlet or some sort of information on alligators in and around our waters. Knowledge is everything. Please lets prevent this tragedy from happening again to any family or any of our precious children.

Best Regards
Shannon Sherman

Mrs. Simon,

Your note is a very pleasant reprieve in what can only be “understatedly” described as a very unpleasant week in my community.

Thank you, thank you, for thinking of those of us in Orlando who have had our city completely and utterly disrupted. The emotional tumult cannot be prepared for, few of us remain unaffected, but we’re working hard here to assist those most in need. Night before last I had dinner with an Orange County Deputy who was among those first on the scene at the Pulse Nightclub, he described the carnage, and even this hardened cop fell into tears.

It has been 36 years since I left East Lansing and moved to Florida, I have seen my state grow from approximately 9 million people to more than 20 million. While the growth mostly brings good things and good people, there is clearly some bad; none of us ever expected this kind of “evil”.

The fact that you took the time to extend your kindness and prayers to me, my fellow Sunshine State Spartans, and all Floridians is truly appreciated; I for one am deeply grateful!

Orlando Mayor Buddy Dyer is a friend of mine and I have copied him on your note and my response. Clearly Midwestern stoicism, never outweighs Midwestern kindness and caring, I am touched by the fact that Spartans on campus are rallying around my community from afar, and I’m certain Mayor Dyer will be as well.

PS: You are welcome to share this note with whomever you please.

On behalf of Michigan State University, I write to extend our thoughts and prayers in the aftermath of the tragic events in Orlando. We are saddened and disturbed by this horrible act. The One Pulse Community Fund is an enduring investment in the local Latino community, especially and including LGBTQ Latinos.

During the early hours of June 12, 2016, Orlando's future changed forever. In this moment, a senseless act of violence took the lives of 49 victims, wounded 53, and emotionally impacted millions of lives throughout the world.

Many of the victims are members of our community. As an undivided community we are united in strength and solidarity, keeping in mind the needs of those affected. The issues that will continue to arise in the aftermath of this tragedy will be culturally sensitive, thus we are ready to help our families in the process of healing. We must come together collectively, as a family, to address issues of acceptance within our own community.

We are all One Pulse - we are committed to being part of the solution during times of financial crisis. The One Pulse Community Fund is an enduring investment in the local Latino community, especially and including LGBTQ Latinos.

This Fund was established in response to the recent tragedy to meet the emerging needs of the families affected. Latino Leadership, Inc. is ready to help these families in the process of healing by providing interest-free, short-term loans for immediate support to help bridge the financial burdens associated with funeral and medical expenses and a wide range of other costs that have resulted from this terrible circumstance.

The issuing of these loans will keep the Fund cyclical and accessible to meet the future needs of the Latino community in Orlando. Your generosity is greatly appreciated. Thank you for standing with us to ensure that the community continually has what it needs to thrive.

Dear Mayor Dyer,

We are all heartbroken over the past week's tragedies. The attacks and terrible events have shown an outpouring of love and affection this community might not have ever experienced. Your leadership and guidance serves as an example for other cities to follow for years to come when facing such horrific events.

As a sign of our united spirit, I wish to suggest a possible lasting memorial to our victims, survivors, and community. Please investigate the Rainbow Eucalyptus trees as a possible symbol of our UnitedOrlando memorial. As a patron of the Dr. Phillips Center Broadway Series, my wife (the cultured one in this marriage) and I have watched the development of our downtown area. In the large courtyard at the entrance of the Dr. Phillips Center, a beautiful cluster of Rainbow Eucalyptus with appropriate markers could show our continued support to the LGBTQ community and last memorial to the past weeks' events.

Thank you for your consideration of this matter. Please take the time to explore this magnificent trees and their exquisite beauty. I have recently provided one for a small gathering of supporters to our LGBTQ community that will be planting it this weekend. If you wish any further information about acquiring the trees, please feel free to contact us - fellow members of the College Park community.

Subject: Tribute to UnitedOrlando

Dear Mayor Dyer,

We are all heartbroken over the past week's tragedies. The attacks and terrible events have shown an outpouring of love and affection this community might not have ever experienced. Your leadership and guidance serves as an example for other cities to follow for years to come when facing such horrific events.

As a sign of our united spirit, I wish to suggest a possible lasting memorial to our victims, survivors, and community. Please investigate the Rainbow Eucalyptus trees as a possible symbol of our UnitedOrlando memorial. As a patron of the Dr. Phillips Center Broadway Series, my wife (the cultured one in this marriage) and I have watched the development of our downtown area. In the large courtyard at the entrance of the Dr. Phillips Center, a beautiful cluster of Rainbow Eucalyptus with appropriate markers could show our continued support to the LGBTQ community and last memorial to the past weeks' events.

Thank you for your consideration of this matter. Please take the time to explore this magnificent trees and their exquisite beauty. I have recently provided one for a small gathering of supporters to our LGBTQ community that will be planting it this weekend. If you wish any further information about acquiring the trees, please feel free to contact us - fellow members of the College Park community.

Respectfully,
Dan/Jennifer Reeves

Subject: Urgent

Hi Mr. Mayor,

First, I want you to know that I share in the pain and the shock of the citizens of Orlando, and my heart is with the bereaved families and the wounded.

Terror is not something new to me.

I moved from Vancouver BC to live in Israel, that suffers more terror, year after year, than any other democratic, 1st world country.

With a $100,000 donation in 2001, I started an organization, called The OneFamily Fund, which provides a comprehensive individualized care for every member of each family, based on each one's unique circumstances. We are providing our services (detailed below) today, to 2,800 families, numbering approximately 10,000 people. We have a staff of 46, located in four geographically divided regions of Israel

We are by far Israel's largest private foundation providing for the needs of every one of Israel's victims of terror, who chooses to receive it.

We provide the following:

- Financial grants based needs,
- Kids healing Camps, three times a year, for over 600 bereaved children under 18.
- A young adults division with over 700 men and women from the ages of 22 to 35 with 750 participants
- a bereaved Parents division with over 1,000 parents.
- a division for kids who lost both parents.
- a widow and widowers division with over 300 people
- two wounded divisions, divided by age for a few thousand of the wounded.
- A "professional friend" is assigned to each individual, which is run by professionals and a large cadre of volunteers

All of this is based on 15 years of experience, and over $45.0 million dollars of charitable distributions in cash or services.

I believe OneFamily has a lot to offer the community of wounded and bereaved in your Orlando, financially, emotionally, psychologically and more.

I also believe we could very helpful is raising the size of the fund through our personal contacts, Hollywood contacts and a viral marketing campaign.

We would be glad to help you in setting up the programs we have developed here during our 15 years of experience. Our comprehensive care for for the "victims" of terror or, as many prefer to call themselves, the "heroic survivors" of terror will change the lives for the better of every one involved. And we would be happy, through our contacts, to raise funds for their care and perhaps even enough for future attacks.

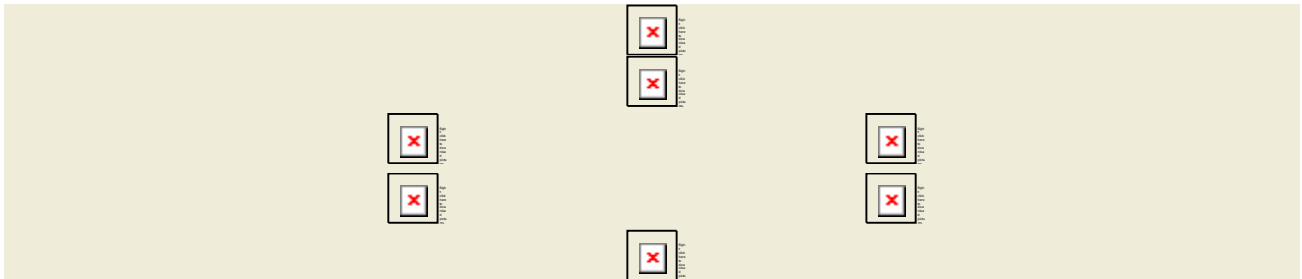

OneFamily received The President of Israel's award for volunteerism in 2011.

OneFamily has the public Endorsement of Israel's Prime Minister, Minister of Education, Minister of Defense, Minister of health and welfare as well as Israel's Ambassadors to the United States and the United Nations.
The former Mayor of Miami Beach, David Dermer, can also serve as a reference.

I appreciate the time you have taken to read this letter.
I hope we can be in touch to very soon to further develop this proposal.
Time is of the essence.

Sincerely
Marc Belzberg

Subject: Siemens Donation to OneOrlando.org

Mayor Dyer –

On behalf of the more than 4,000 Siemens employees that call Central Florida home, I want to take this opportunity to express our gratitude to you, the City team and our region's first responders for your leadership during this difficult time. This senseless tragedy has impacted our community in ways unimaginable, but to see how the region has come together and rallied their support makes me extremely proud.

To that end, I'd like to provide an update on Siemens' commitment to the OneOrlando.org fund. Our employees in greater Orlando and across the country have been anxious to join in the efforts to support the victims and their families. We are pleased to pledge an initial contribution of $50,000, and will also launch an employee match initiative with the goal of raising another $50,000 – which we will then match dollar for dollar, bringing our total potential commitment to $150,000.

Again, we are proud to have been part of the community for more than three decades, and truly appreciate all the tireless hours you and your team have put in over the last few days. It is the aftermath of challenging times like this that truly define a city – and I know I can speak on behalf of not only the 4,000 local Siemens employees, but the more than 50,000 across the United States – that Orlando remains more united than ever.

Best regards,

We provide the following:

- Financial grants based needs,
- Kids healing Camps, three times a year, for over 600 bereaved children under 18.
- A young adults division with over 700 men and women from the ages of 22 to 35 with 750 participants
- a bereaved Parents division with over 1,000 parents.
- a division for kids who lost both parents.
- a widow and widowers division with over 300 people
- two wounded divisions, divided by age for a few thousand of the wounded.
- A "professional friend" is assigned to each individual, which is run by professionals and a large cadre of volunteers

All of this is based on 15 years of experience, and over $45.0 million dollars of charitable distributions in cash or services.

I believe OneFamily has a lot to offer the community of wounded and bereaved in your Orlando, financially, emotionally, psychologically and more.

I also believe we could very helpful is raising the size of the fund through our personal contacts, Hollywood contacts and a viral marketing campaign.

We would be glad to help you in setting up the programs we have developed here during our 15 years of experience. Our comprehensive care for for the "victims" of terror or, as many prefer to call themselves, the "heroic survivors" of terror will change the lives for the better of every one involved. And we would be happy, through our contacts, to raise funds for their care and perhaps even enough for future attacks.

OneFamily received The President of Israel's award for volunteerism in 2011.

OneFamily has the public Endorsement of Israel's Prime Minister, Minister of Education, Minister of Defense, Minister of health and welfare as well as Israel's Ambassadors to the United States and the United Nations.
The former Mayor of Miami Beach, David Dermer, can also serve as a reference.

I appreciate the time you have taken to read this letter.
I hope we can be in touch to very soon to further develop this proposal.
Time is of the essence.

Marc Belzberg

Hi Tammy....I am briefly in the office this morning....most all of us are out in the community this week tending to our grieving City. Your email is quite touching to me because I grew up in Lynchburg...went to James Madison University....have a tremendous love for the State of Virginia and have deep affection for Richmond as well. This has been a very hard time for us...but we are determined...strong and united. The outpouring from around the world is overwhelmingly inspirational.

May I have the cell number for Mayor Jones so that I can ask Mayor Dyer to call once he has a break? I know Mayor Dyer appreciates the City of Richmond reaching out to us here in Orlando...please convey this.

Thank you so much...

Dear Mayor Dyer,

I had contacted you a few years ago regarding a film that I produced locally in Orlando. The film honors Orlando's LGBT community and delivers a positive message to all who view it. Since my initial contact, the film has gone to DVD and is currently on Hulu Plus. While my film spotlights the LGBT community, it should be seen by straight people and is not offensive or obscene in any way. I would like to help all of the residents of Orlando, especially those who have been directly affected by this horrible attack, by sharing my film in some way to get the most eyes on it. I would like you to view it...it's only 1 hour and 24 min. long and let me know how I can help by lending the film for fundraising and social awareness with the film's positive message. It's important to me to show gratitude to the LGBT community as well.

Please let me know if you can take some time.....with your family.....to view the film and I will get it to you on line.

I hope to be able to help out.

Dear Sir,

We have just returned from a family visit to Europe.

After a trans-Atlantic, and arriving with a few kids, the last thing folks need is more hurdles between them and their bed.

Someone has decided we need a pre-Immigration check for US citizens.

If you are a US passport holder you have to line up to gain access to a computer terminal, which asks a few questions, scans your passport, and then takes your picture after adjusting it's height to equal your height. It prints out the results on a piece of thermal paper, you put in your passport and after lining up to go through the real Immigration control, you surrender the piece of paper.

Our friends from Finland, travelling with us, were fed up waiting for us by the time we got through to baggage.

Sincerely

Allan

Good Afternoon,

My name is Deb Montgomery and I have been writing grants professionally for workforce investment boards, American job centers, housing authorities, colleges, schools and nonprofits for over twenty-one years. I currently work with a group of some of the best Department of Labor grant writers in the United States. My team is in the process of actively marketing our grant proposal writing services for the Department of Labor's "America's Promise Job Driven Grant Program". As you are probably aware, The Department of Labor expects to fund 20-40 grants, with individual grant amounts ranging up to $6 million dollars over 4 years. It is a wonderful program designed to strengthen the pipeline of skilled workers to expand an economic region's middle- to highskilled workforce within one or more prioritized industry sector(s). The grant will provide individuals the opportunity to get high-quality, tuition free education and training that leads to in-demand and industry-recognized credentials and degrees.

My team and I have successfully written these type of grants numerous times before and we know what it takes to maximize your chances of receiving this funding. I only have a handful of slots available to accept new clients so if you are at all interested in speaking with me about this grant or any other funding opportunities, please email me or give my associate, John Nawrocki, a call. Mayor Dyer,

I am getting in touch with you at what must be a very busy and difficult time. Since last Sunday morning all of us in the LGBT have broken hearts and stand with those who have lost loved ones and friends.

I am reaching out to you today because I want those affected to know the world loves them and will remember their loved ones.

Toronto's Pride Parade - the largest LGBT Pride festival in North America would like to offer to fly survivors of the Orlando massacre as well as family members and loved ones of the victims to Toronto to march in the parade in honour of their loved ones. We will hold a moment of silence and over a million people lining the route will send their love and be truly touched.

We would cover all associated costs.

We would very much appreciate being put in contact with any of the survivors or family members and loved ones of the victims.

If this comes at too difficult a time, and the survivors, family members and loved ones are simply too overwhelmed, we will completely understand and do not expect a response.

Please also feel free to pass along my info or put me in contact with any organizations or individuals you think would be able to assist.

Please know the world loves and is thinking of everyone affected.

Thank you for all that you are doing,

From all over the country the personal words of kindness and support, offers of assistance have served to hearten, sustain and strengthen all of us. Thank you.

Our hearts are broken for the family and friends of those we lost.

The heroic acts of our Orlando Police Department as well as other law enforcement, and the actions of our citizens no doubt saved lives throughout that night. The medical personnel in our City were tireless as they worked to save the lives of those transported to their hospital. They are heroes.

I cannot overstate the gratitude I have for the dedication of our City employees. Through long hours, they have helped in every way possible to lead our City through this weekend's events.

Mr. Mayor,

Once again, I learn that your beautiful country is hit by barbarism and intolerance, and I would like to tell you how much I am hurt that your city has been the scene of such savagery.

There are almost fifteen years, I cried watching terrible images on television, I did it once again a few months ago in the attacks that have occurred in my country, and once again, I collapsed and bruised by such a situation.

The only thing that is possible for citizens of other cities around the world is to think of the victims and their families, they receive at least in thought, compassion and support.

Please receive Mr. Mayor, my sincere condolences to all your fellow citizens and their families.

Monsieur le Maire,

Une fois de plus, j'apprends que votre beau pays est frappé par la barbarie et l'intolérance, et j'aimerais vous dire à quel point je suis blessé que votre ville ait été le lieu d'une telle sauvagerie.

Il y a bientôt quinze ans, j'ai pleuré en regardant des images terribles à la télévision, je l'ai fait encore une fois voici quelques mois lors des attentats qui se sont produits dans mon pays, et une fois encore, je suis effondré et meurtri par une telle situation.

La seule chose qui soit possible pour les citoyens d'autres villes à travers le monde est de penser aux victimes et à leurs familles, pour qu'elles reçoivent au moins par la pensée, compassion et soutien.

Je vous prie de recevoir Monsieur le Maire, mes sincères condoléances pour tous vos concitoyens et leurs familles.

Hello all,

Orlando Shootings, Radical Jihadism and the Terrorism Terminology Battles

By
AARON DAVID MILLER

The terrorism terminology battle that has simmered for years and most recently flared between Donald Trump on one side and Hillary Clinton and Barack Obama on the other boils down to this: Is there value or utility in linking and identifying as Islamic (radical or extremist) the spate of terror attacks carried out by those who identify with Islamic State or other jihadi causes? No one argues for anything that would make more difficult the fight against those extremists who draw on Islamic texts and practices, however perversely, to validate their killing. A distinction is whether word choice or actions would alienate Muslim constituencies here and abroad that many—including me—would argue are vital to that fight.

President Obama, Mr. Trump, and Mrs. Clinton have made multiple statements and speeches since New York-born Omar Mateen killed 49 people and injured more than 50 others in Orlando. Mr. Trump denounced the shootings as “radical Islamic terrorism” and charged that the president is not only weak on such issues but also that failing to identify the problem makes eliminating it impossible. President Obama has said that “If we fall into the trap of painting all Muslims with a broad brush and imply that we are at war with an entire religion, then we are doing the terrorists’ work for them.”

Mrs. Clinton, under pressure, has said both that “I’m not going to demonize and demagogue and declare war on an entire religion. That’s just plain dangerous and it plays into ISIS’s hands.” as well as that “Radical jihadism, radical Islamism, I think they mean the same thing. I’m happy to say either.”

The Obama administration is in many ways following the George W. Bush administration’s lead. After Sept. 11, 2001, President Bush avoided declaring war on Islam or the Muslim world. During a visit to the Islamic Center in Washington less than a week after 9/11, Mr. Bush said: “The face of terror is not the true faith of Islam. That’s not what Islam is all about. Islam is peace.” Just days later, Mr. Bush’s use of the loaded word “crusade”—“This crusade, this war on terrorism, is going to take a while.”—sparked controversy, but by and large his administration described terrorism as acts of evil, which avoided fostering the idea that the U.S. was at war with Islam and sought to minimize the backlash against Muslims in the U.S. A “war on terror” was deemed more appropriate.

The Obama White House dubbed its summit on counterterrorism a meeting to counter violent extremism, itself steering clear of specific labels to help strengthen relations with Muslims in the U.S. and to avoid offending Muslims abroad who are allies in the fight against terrorism.

Mr. Trump’s references to banning Muslims and accusing Muslims in the U.S. of supporting terrorists strike many—including me—as bigoted, xenophobic, and Islamophobic. At the same time, the Obama administration’s apparent reluctance to consistently associate such attacks with jihadi extremism angers many. There is no point in denying connections between acts of terrorism and Islamist extremists. Of the five terror groups responsible for the most attacks worldwide, three promote an extreme Islamist ideology, according to the State

Department's 2015 counterterrorism report. The Orlando shooter's 9-1-1 calls, reports of what he said in the Pulse nightclub, and his previous associations with jihadi rhetoric suggest that he was inspired to some extent by the ISIS narrative. Accurately describing the challenge presented by jihadi attacks helps to clarify the complex task ahead. This isn't a clash of civilizations, nor is the U.S. at war with 1.7 billion Muslims or a religion in which a tiny fraction who adhere to extremist strains kill and inspire others to do so. Still, no other major religion is linked to such a phenomenon. Jihadi terror isn't an existential threat to the United States. But it is capable of inflicting tremendous suffering, and inadvertently minimizing this kind of terrorism doesn't help.

In our polarized political climate, consensus on language or a unifying message isn't forthcoming, particularly not in a presidential-election year. Still, nearly 15 years after 9/11 inflicted a tragic unifying moment, more ought to be possible in terms of accurately describing these adversaries and, more important, what to do about them.

Dear Maureen,

The words thank you seem woefully inadequate for the outpouring of support I have received from so many people like you for the people of Orlando. From all over the country the personal words of kindness and support, offers of assistance have served to hearten, sustain and strengthen all of us. Thank you.

This past Sunday was the most horrific day in the history of the City of Orlando. And yet, I have never been more proud of our community because of the way they have come together, united with a singular focus of supporting the families and friends of the victims. Our hearts are broken for the family and friends of those we lost.

The heroic acts of our Orlando Police Department as well as other law enforcement, and the actions of our citizens no doubt saved lives throughout that night. The medical personnel in our City were tireless as they worked to save the lives of those transported to their hospital. They are heroes.

I cannot overstate the gratitude I have for the dedication of our City employees. Through long hours, they have helped in every way possible to lead our City through this weekend's events.

We will be a better City because of this. We will not be defined by the act of a cowardly hater. We will be defined by how we respond, how we treat each other.

Toronto's Pride Parade - the largest LGBT Pride festival in North America would like to offer to fly survivors of the Orlando massacre as well as family members and loved ones of the victims to Toronto to march in the parade in honour of their loved ones. We will hold a moment of silence and over a million people lining the route will send their love and be truly touched.

We would cover all associated costs.

We would very much appreciate being put in contact with any of the survivors or family members and loved ones of the victims.

If this comes at too difficult a time, and the survivors, family members and loved ones are simply too overwhelmed, we will completely understand and do not expect a response.

Dear Mr Dyer,

Here in the UK, unlike in the US, we get to hear what's happening in the rest of the world, and on our news coverage an atrocity like today's in Orlando has been the lead story, only interrupting the celebrations of our wonderful Queen's 90th birthday.

It was an appalling act, but please don't just blame Muslim fundamentalism (that's a whole problem on its own that we share) or mental illness or whatever ever else excuse this particular gunman may have had, but blame yourself as a politician, and your country's abject failure to tackle the issue of legally owned firearms. I don't know, but I'll take a wild punt that the shooter owned his weapons legally, if he didn't it would be easy to get hold of guns in a country awash with them. So to my question, when will you people realise that letting the populous arm themselves will always lead to events like this and how many more of your innocent citizens will you let die?

To my mind Obama has been a great disappointment as the first black president, and, I suspect we won't get to find out just how disappointing Hilary will be as the first woman president, BUT someone needs to stand up to the NRA and stop this senseless killing in the self-styled greatest democracy in the world. We had two major atrocities in the UK, Hungerford and Dumblane, we changed the law. If you can't easily get guns, you can't easily shoot people. Why, if it's not the voting power of the gun lobby, do you not address this issue? Every politician in America has blood on their hands, the blood of their own people. Take the weapons away and you will stop the killings. Not just of these poor gay chaps, but all the Columbines and God knows how many other mass killings, so numerous I can't even remember where they took place!

I'm sorry Mr Dyer, it must have been a terrible, dark day for you and I would have sent this email directly to Mr Obama, but you are much more accessible on the Internet (to your credit). I wish you and the people of Florida nothing but sympathy and hope. Stop the guns, stop the killings.

With all good wishes

Raithby, Lincolnshire, United Kingdom.

The words thank you seem woefully inadequate for the outpouring of support I have received from so many people like you for the people of Orlando. From all over the world the personal words of kindness and support and offers of assistance have served to hearten, sustain and strengthen all of us. Thank you.

This past Sunday was the most horrific day in the history of the City of Orlando. And yet, I have never been more proud of our community because of the way they have come together, united with a singular focus of supporting the families and friends of the victims. Our hearts are broken for the family and friends of those we lost.

The heroic acts of our Orlando Police Department as well as other law enforcement, and the actions of our citizens no doubt saved lives throughout that night. The medical personnel in our City were tireless as they worked to save the lives of those transported to their hospital. They are heroes.

I cannot overstate the gratitude I have for the dedication of our City employees. Through long hours, they have helped in every way possible to lead our City through this weekend's events.

We will be a better City because of this. We will not be defined by the act of a cowardly hater. We will be defined by how we respond, how we treat each other.

First, my thoughts and prayers go out to the victims of the Pulse nightclub shooting and their families, and to you and your constituents. These types of events not only affect the victims and their immediate families, but society at large: they remind us of our vulnerability and the senselessness of mass violence.

Me and two other researchers have developed a predictive analytics strategy that we think could substantially assist law enforcement in getting early warning for a potential mass shooting. This strategy proposes tracking ammunition purchases in a secure, centralized database. The purchases are anonymized to protect identity, but with the ability to get a purchasers' ID after due process.

The ammunition purchase database will allow law enforcement to leverage powerful big data technology and predictive analytics to identify unusual ammunition purchase patterns that are indicative of an impending mass shooting. In addition, the system can learn over time by training it with actual shooting events and the ammunition purchase behavior that preceded it.

I have attached a more detailed description if you would like to know more. Of course, I and my fellow researchers are available to you as well, should you wish to discuss further.

With Deepest Sympathy,

I am reaching out to you today because I want those affected to know the world loves them and will remember their loved ones.

Toronto's Pride Parade - the largest LGBT Pride festival in North America would like to offer to fly survivors of the Orlando massacre as well as family members and loved ones of the victims to Toronto to march in the parade in honour of their loved ones. We will hold a moment of silence and over a million people lining the route will send their love and be truly touched.

We would cover all associated costs.

We would very much appreciate being put in contact with any of the survivors or family members and loved ones of the victims.

If this comes at too difficult a time, and the survivors, family members and loved ones are simply too overwhelmed, we will completely understand and do not expect a response.

Please also feel free to pass along my info or put me in contact with any organizations or individuals you think would be able to assist.

Please know the world loves and is thinking of everyone affected.

CENTER FOR AMERICAN PROGRESS

Refugee Integration in the United States

By David Dyssegaard Kallick with Silva Mathema

Refugees come to the United States from some of the most hard-hit corners all around the world, having experienced hardships that the rest of us can barely imagine. Refugees are admitted to the United States for seeking a safe haven from a well-founded fear of persecution in their home countries, but they arrive to contribute to the American economy in a myriad of ways: bringing vitality to areas with declining populations, contributing to the growth of areas that are already flourishing, and expanding the labor force.

This report focuses on how four groups—Somali, Burmese, Hmong, and Bosnian refugees—are doing on key indicators of integration, such as wages, labor market participation, business ownership, English language ability, and citizenship in the United States. As the United States and other countries wrestle with how to handle the sharp rise in the number of people around the globe displaced by conflict and persecution, the long-term experience of the four groups studied in this report should provide some grounds for encouragement.

Dear Honorable, Mayor Buddy Dyer

As others and I have many times before, I am again reaching out to you during yet another national crisis. As you know, the shooting in Orlando was not an isolated or random act of violence against the LGBT community. We are as much under the gun as any other oppressed people are, and this last horrific injustice against us has finally gotten the attention of the world. In this time, we need to add to the pressure to enact better conditions for the LGBT community and as well raise funds for the victims who are ill prepared to handle this devastation—financially or emotionally. I have begun to gather artists who are uniting for a benefit concert to be held within the next week (date TBD). Dionne Warwick, Allison Williams, Lil Kim, Ashante and a few TV stars have contacted me since the announcement was released, so the clarion call is being answered. Seeing your tremendous ability to orate on behalf of those in crisis, I implore you to join me as I pull together this fundraiser—100 % benefiting those affecting survivors and families. May I gain some of your time for a face meeting to discuss your potential involvement with the concert? Whatever best time suits, as I realize your schedule must be hectic. Thank you in advance for all contributions you make on behalf of this cause and the community you have long served.

Warmest Regards,
Angelo Ellerbee

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
June 13, 2016 (New York, NY)-

DoubleXXposure Media Gathers Talent in Fundraising Concert for Orlando Shooting Victims

Angelo Ellerbee, CEO of DoubleXXposure Media, has long stood at the forefront of the LGBT rights movement, and sits among the pioneers in the fight against AIDS. His firm issued a statement on June 13, 2016 regarding the horrific act of violence in Orlando, and of their plans for a fundraising concert benefiting those affected.

"As an openly gay, African American man, I am a part of a community that has long been in the crosshairs of misunderstanding and violence. I remain behind the fight against those forces that would deny us our right to be free. To be who we are. To be ourselves. My heart goes out to those who have suffered at the hands such evil. I can't just sit still however and offer condolences anymore. As an advocate, I am raising my voice yet again and calling upon major artists to join in a concert to raise funds for those lives affected in Orlando."

The first to bring their talents and advocacy to the concert is the legendary Dionne Warwick, an acclaimed performer/activist whose AIDS charity song "That's What Friends Are For," with Stevie Wonder, Elton John and Gladys Knight, served as a massive wakeup call as the first recording dedicated to raising awareness and major funds for AIDS in support of AMFAR. Also supporting the effort is renowned Archbishop Designate E. Bernard Jordan, whose church, Zoe Ministries at 310 Riverside Dr #103, New York, NY 10025 will serve as the venue for the planned fundraising concert.

DoubleXXposure is requesting all major talent in addition to technicians and other professionals to lend their support to the concert--scheduled to take place within the next ten days. "We are needing all available hands, including other major artist to join the lineup," states Ellerbee, "working in a medium that reaches millions, I believe our talents can be put to good use once more in showing the world what unity sounds like."

In the interim, DoubleXXposure encourages everyone to donate to blood banks, stating, "There will never be enough." He also urges monetary donations via Equality Florida's nonprofit LGBT civil rights organization that has set up a GoFundMe account for the victims and their families. For any artists, crews, and volunteers interested in participating and for info on upcoming ticket sales and prices email Theellerbeegroup@aol.com or call \(201\) 224-6570.

Orlando Shakespeare Theater responds to Orlando tragedy.

Dear Buddy,

On behalf of everyone at Orlando Shakespeare Theater, we would like to express our deepest sorrow over the senseless murders that took away 49 members of our community. We honor those that lost their lives and offer hope for those still recovering. This will be a time of healing for every person in Central Florida.

"Your tragedy is our tragedy... Theater is a place where every race, creed, sexuality and gender is equal, is embraced and is loved. Hate will never win. Together, we have to make sure of that." – James Corden, Tony Awards 2016

We recognize more than ever that the issues of intolerance, bigotry, and exclusion still confront the American people. It is our hope that through West Side Story, we can present a piece of American musical theater that entertains, teaches, and reminds audiences that we build strong communities and prosperous futures through tolerance and inclusion.

Orlando Shakespeare Theater will continue to support this community

love, and a greater acceptance of all people.

Lynx unveils new bus wrap commemorating Orlando shooting victims

On Thursday, Lynx unveiled a new bus wrap to commemorate the victims of the Pulse nightclub mass shooting in Orlando.

"We touch just about every aspect of this community, and we needed to show our support," said Lynx CEO Edward Johnson. "We wanted to come up with a way to show that we stand as part of the OneOrlando mindset."

The bus features Orlando's Lake Eola fountain surrounded by a heart, a pulse and 49 doves representing the 49 victims of the tragedy.

"We tried to think of a way not only to honor the victims, but also to bring Orlando together," said lead creative designer Jessica Casa. "It seemed like the perfect thing to have [the fountain] in the heart and have a pulse entering it — the pulse of the city of Orlando."

The bus wrap was produced rapidly. Once the design team began, it was only a matter of hours until they put the finishing touches on the final product. After that, the installation company stepped in. Although the print and installation process typically takes three to four days, employees worked through the night to get the bus ready as quickly as possible.

"We're all very proud of the final product," Johnson said.

Although the bus is not running any routes yet, Johnson hopes it will run along Orange Avenue as a tribute to where the shooting took place.

The bus will remain in the fleet for some time to come.

"We don't want to put any timetable on this because we know that this event is going to be with us for a while," said Johnson. "There are a lot of things we have to go through as far as the healing process."

The company's Boston-based advertising contractor, Direct Media USA, is donating a second commemorative bus due to arrive in the upcoming week.

"They understand OneOrlando [because] they understand Boston Strong," said Matthew Friedman, director of marketing communications for Lynx.

"My hope for this design is that it will help the community heal," Casa said. "It's a tough time, and we want people to know we're all in this together."

Lynx has also started an internal company website to collect money that will be donated to the OneOrlando fund.

"This was such a small token of what we could do to show our spirit as well as get the message out to our entire community: We are a unified Orlando," Johnson said.

"We enhance people's lives everyday through passion, pride, and performance."

Dear Elected Officials:

I know that I am just one small voice, but I also know if I feel this passionately about something that I should speak up. I was less than 10 miles away from the deadliest mass shooting in the history of the United States of America. I try to keep putting it out of my head, but when I go into my internship, I see those who were affected by this. When I go to school, I see those who were affected by this. I demand to know what is going to be done. I am scared. I am traumatized. I am upset. WHY IS NOTHING GETTING DONE?
I understand if people want to have handguns in their homes to protect their families. But do we need to make automatic weapons capable of killing many people in seconds available to the general population – so easy, in fact, that it only takes less than 10 minutes to buy one at a gun store?! The fact that buying an automatic weapon is as easy as buying a pack of cigarettes is crazy to me. Are we going to start selling bombs at CVS as well? Is this even real right now? Tell me what is happening. Something needs to be changed NOW. Not tomorrow, right now. SERIOUSLY. Now. Now. Now. Or do we have to wait until the next most-deadly-ever shooting?
I'm not overreacting. It's not like I'm worried about getting struck by lightning. It's not like I'm worried about dying in a plane crash. It's not like I'm worried about something happening that is out of my control and is a one-in-a-million event. I'm worried about something that keeps happening and nothing is getting done about it. Please. Do something about this NOW. Before it's your friend, loved one, or you who isn't so lucky.

Dear Commissioners,

Thank you for your kind words of support. Sunday was the most horrific day in the history of the City of Orlando. And yet, I am even more proud of our community because they came together, united to support the families and friends of the victims.

We learned of the heroic acts of our Orlando Police Department and other law enforcement, as well as our citizens as hundreds of lives were saved throughout the night. The medical personnel that saved so many lives that were transported to the hospital are heroes.

I am proud of how our City has responded to this tragedy and the dedication our City continues to show.

We will not be defined by the act of a cowardly hater. We will be defined by how we respond, how we treat each other.

Salvation Army Expands Services to Families & Responders of Orlando Tragedy

June 15, 2016
Kevin Smith | kevin.smith@uss.salvationarmy.org

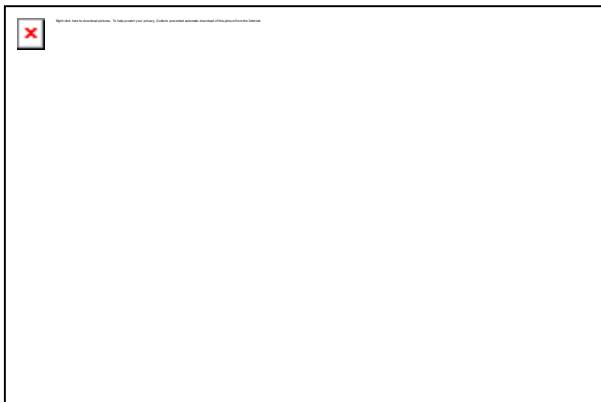

Photo: Florida Governor Rick Scott visits with a Salvation Army disaster worker serving law-enforcement personnel near The Pulse nightclub.

Orlando, FL - The Salvation Army disaster response teams from the Orlando and Sanford corps continue to provide support to first responders and families at The Pulse nightclub, providing food, drinks, and emotional and spiritual care.

"Yesterday was a day of transition as we worked with the local, state, and federal teams to ensure the safety of the personnel on the ground," said Major Ted Morris, Salvation Army Orlando Area Commander. "With the heat index reaching into triple digits yesterday, people need to stay hydrated. Heat

Providing food and drinks is a core service of The Salvation Army, and while food service will continue, the more critical need is hydration. In addition to its mobile canteens, The Salvation Army has also mobilized three Polaris utility task vehicles (UTVs) to more effectively distribute water and sports drinks to responder personnel throughout the secure area. With streets blocked off to traffic, the Polaris UTVs have allowed teams to get resources to responders more efficiently, ensuring the safety of more than three hundred local, state, and federal personnel.

Major Ted Morris and Mr. Kelvin Coachman, Salvation Army Director of Social Services, are also coordinating with other community organizations to support families at the City of Orlando 'one-stop' assistance center, located at Camping World stadium. The Salvation Army has positioned a second disaster response team at the stadium to provide hydration and snacks to family members seeking information and assistance.

"In the Central Florida community, we support needy families every day, and in the days to come, we need to focus on finding resources for all those coping with this tragedy," said Major Morris. "Comfort may come in the forms of either financial assistance or physical aid, like hydration and snacks, but we also know that many of these families need to know that we care deeply and we grieve with them in their loss."

The Salvation Army urges organizations wishing to partner in helping families recover to contact us at 407-423-8581. Individuals, outside of Orlando, who wish to contribute may call 1-800-SAL-ARMY or text "Orlando" to 41444.

"Yesterday, we received a generous donation of Gatorade and snacks from our local Sam's Club," said Gene Daniels, Director of Operations at The Salvation Army Area Command. "We were able to get that Gatorade immediately to the responders on scene thanks to our Polaris units and volunteers on the ground. This is why we are here, showing the support and appreciation that we all feel for their efforts."

Please continue to pray for the Orlando community.

I know you are busy, and I hesiated to write but...

NYC erred in showing fear and weakness after 9/11 when the built the WTC funky twisted tower. A better show of remembrance would have been to build it twice as tall in the same place and same dominating look. That would tell our foes we will go bigger and atronger if you hurt us.

How about a Pulse Tower in Orlando rising above the city to tell the world, we grieve deeply for our losses, but we then rise up to new heights. Our enemies are impressed by tall buildings. An "in your face" Pulse Tower would focus attention, celebrate our precious lost souls, and tell the world Orlando wont be crushed by the cruel.

I know private times are tough now, but surely the world around, even our Muslim friends all over, even in Saudi, Trumps, Rockefellers, et al might feel some need to support LIFE in Orlando. If not, perhaps a spanking new govt building combining city, county, state, and feds rising, yes- 305 meters+ above O, named Pulse Tower. Time to quit shaking in our boots. Stand Tall Orlando!

I am not pro gay, but I am pro-living, and I'll bet few would resist Pulse Tower-a testament to life, EVERYONE'S life!

First, what's up with that ridiculous hiring process for a Community Service Officer position I applied for a few month's ago??? No Democrat would have two people that were that rude conducting those initial tests. To be honest, I took one look at their lack of character, and I knew within seconds neither one of those people were the slightest bit interested in helping the community, WHICH IS THE ONLY REASON I APPLIED. I didn't apply for a job, I applied to help the community, hence, "Community Service Officer," meaning you serve the community.. But you're better than Rick Scott, the worst Governor I've ever seen anyway, I will vote for you if you run for governor. Subject: Protection for Funerals of Pulse Nightclub Victims

Dear Mayor Dyer,

It has come to my attention that the Westboro Baptist Church will be sending a contingent of their followers to Florida to protest and interfere with the funerals of the victims of the Pulse nightclub shooting. In light of the magnitude of this horrific event, I can't help but wonder if the governor's office can take some action to protect the families of victims from having to deal with this insult to human decency. I realize that the Westboro folks are protected by the first amendment, but perhaps it would be possible to cordon off areas immediately around the funeral homes so that protestors could not exercise their first amendment rights at the expense of the grief of the families and friends who have already suffered so much. I am not a Floridian and I do not know any of the victims. It just seems the decent thing to do, in light of this tragedy, to protect the dignity of those who have been lost.

Thank you for your time.

Respectfully,

Patti O'Shell

Subject: Michael Collins Eagle Scout Project

Dear Mayor Dyer,

My name is Michael Collins, and I am a rising junior at Boone High School and a member of Boy Scout Troop 24. I have recently begun working on my Eagle Project, which is the commissioning of a life-size bronze statue in honor of the fallen officers of the Orlando Police Department. The statue will be placed outside of the new Orlando Police Station, which is currently under construction. I have created a website, <http://michaelcollins24.wix.com/eagleproject>, which contains a short video explaining my project, pictures of the proposed statue, and information on donating. I also have a Facebook page, <https://www.facebook.com/OPD.memorial.eagle.project/>, to provide project updates and information on its process. The fundraising goal for my project is $45,000.

The statue that I wish to commission is a thank you to the past and present members of the Orlando Police Department and a reminder of the dangers they face on the job. I am asking the citizens of Orlando to join with me in making this statue a reality. I will gladly present my project to church groups, community gatherings, or clubs. My first fundraising event will be selling snow cones at Lake Eola on the Fourth of July during the Fireworks at the Fountain event.

Please view my website and share my Facebook page with your constituents, as social media is a valuable tool for reaching large numbers of people.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions about my project or if you have a group in mind to whom I would be able to give my presentation.

I will be glad to present my project to you as well. I will be out of town on a Boy Scout trip until June 26th but will respond to any questions that you may have upon my return. Thank you!

Sincerely,

Michael Collins

This is the intent of pacs and what the others I have done have been acknowledged for. At no time did I ever consider what the our pac, specifically the plaza, has stood for the last 4 days. It has become a center for life, for remembrance, hopefully for recovery and and a renewal of all the good things in life. This is symbolized by the ever growing memorial and captured forever with the video of the President's trip here. The City of Orlando and the Dr Phillips PAC should be extremely proud about how it has reacted to this horrible tragedy.

Subject: DESTROY ISIS AND ISLAMIST TERRORISM WITHOUT BLOODSHED

Mayor Buddy Dyer: I appreciate the turmoil in emotions and recovery. Civilization is in panic. Experts specialty solutions flood the mix that solves nothing, just expand the problem. THIS IS THE ONLY METHOD TO CRUSH ISIS AND ISLAMIC TERRORISM.

Of 16 million WWII American military only 855,070 of us still live but who die at 492 daily. Time is precious. I have been snubbed in hundreds of attempts to find ONE person with the sense and courage to help me air this. Please folks, give this an unbiased review and help win global peace.

The greatest pastime in what we call civilization is killing one another. Starting from evolution of first human ancestors it was, I have a fist—I have a rock, I have a club—I have a spear and morphed into I have an H-bomb—I have a hundred. We stumble toward Armageddon.

I knew before I published this paper the world of myth had thousands of years embedment before science took it apart. We can continue down the path of killing each other with new and larger methods OR reverse that path and transform earth into our paradise. I need fearless leaders to shoulder my quest. I trust women to fulfill that role much more than males.

How about no more war? How about shedding killing one another since beginning of time based upon myths and greed for power by a very few? I know the shock this brings but truth often hurts. Give this old fart your attention and if I meet your common sense finish my quest.

I am a 90-year old American who stands in the last row of the Greatest Generation, is a WWII veteran of the Pacific Theater, who rejected religion as a kid when my 6-year old buddy drowned and had to be rescued from hell by a priest—paid with donations in a pot next to the casket. I will send one of my early papers next.

Planet earth was born as a glob from the sun approximately 4.5 to 4.6 billion years ago and evolved to our home. Life on earth also evolved when the first microscopic eukaryotes appeared about 1.4 billion years ago; life-forms with soft parts about 650 million years ago; land plants appeared roughly 400 million years ago and earth's oxygen levels reached today's values.

Our first ancestors were terrified by nature's tantrums and turned to leaders for explanation and protection. Opportunists obliged and gathered power over their followers. That pattern expanded to sects, religions, nations, alliances, etc. that struggle to rule the earth today. But no more.

We can examine the universe and earth from space armed with a rapidly expanding treasure of science and facts. Fantasy gives way to truth.

OBAMA'S FOREIGN POLICY IS SPEAK, SEE AND HEAR NO EVIL. ISIS THRIVES.

My message is complete but lies inert without an outlet to be heard/seen. I need a champion to exposes it to all the world. Please offer a hand.

Confrontations are accelerating in frequency and regions moving toward all-out war. I block that path by shifting critical deliberations from myths thousands of years old to 21st century irrefutable scientific facts.

Science tracked earth's origin and changes from a blob spun off by the sun 4.54 billion years ago to today's earth. Science unearthed the evolution of our ancestors and their dispersal around the globe. It lays to rest stories of creation--the core cause driving most of earth's current mayhem.

Most of the world is absorbed in conventional actions of conferences, debates, censures, sanctions, occupation, wars, etc. Meanwhile, carnage is historic with random killing of thousands of people by radical Islamists and wanton destruction of homes, antiquities, factories, businesses, farmland, etc. shatter orderly life and efforts to save earth. This solution will stop it.

Who we are depends upon where we were the first few years of our lives. Little children cannot reason and will accept input from most anyone without challenge. It handicaps future reaction to change since first information forms deepest roots becoming most difficult to abandon. This proposal fights that using only proven facts.

Religion has fostered violence and wars throughout history. Currently nations are scrambling for new alliances, strategies, actions, financing and resources for global war against ISIS and more broadly, Islamic terrorism. America's current focus is on elections where adults act as children and will not focus on solutions to the world's major problems. As usual the American public must face the task to debate, decide and act.

As usual opportunistic world leaders jockey for personal and national expansion and power—not global solutions. If we continue the current direction Armageddon appears likely. It need not end that way. Earth's people must coalesce and demand a halt to eternal conflict, adopt 21st century science and revelations and renew earth to peace, prosperity and peaceful lives for all..

Ignored in the current madness are quantum leaps in science including genetic engineering to restructure/replace faulty genes, clone and replace organs, create medicines tailored to eradicate disease; expand the reach of technology like 3-D printing, global laser surgery via internet; improve food supply with newly modified methods, equipment, plants, etc. as did Luther Burbank.

Four resources combine to maximize perspective and solutions: all those above plus the National Geographic Society Genome Project, the Hubble telescope and Socrates who set the method to view and solve global problems.

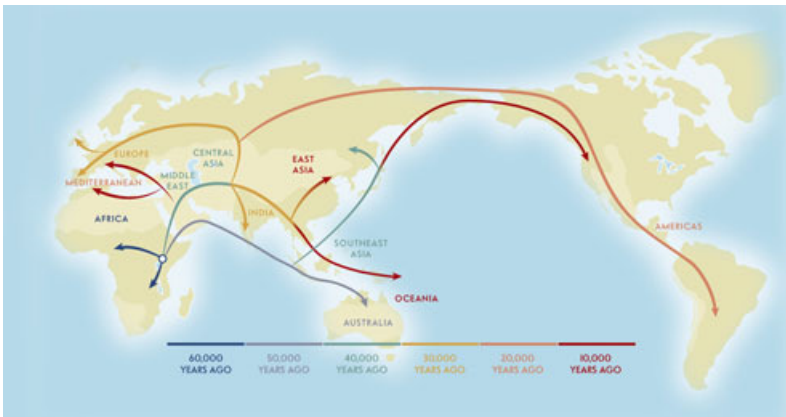

“Man must rise above the Earth—to the top of the atmosphere and beyond—for only thus will he fully understand the world in which he lives”. Socrates, Greek philosopher, 469-399 B.C.

Throughout history until recently our only view of space was up. Lightning, red moon, tornados all were assigned gods that needed appeasement. Our view of earth was limited to mountain tops and balloons. That all changed.

From undreamed heights high above the atmosphere the Hubble telescope furnishes views and perspectives throughout space for earthlings to gaze, ponder, correct assumptions of our origin and develop solutions for earth's survival.

“The human genome, the blueprint that describes how to make another version of you, is huge. It's composed of billions of sub-units called nucleotides, repeated in a long, linear code that contains all of your biological information. You got your DNA from your parents, who got it from theirs and on for millions of generations to the very beginning of life on earth.” National Geographic Genome Project Out of Africa SCIENCE

Somewhere between 80,000 and 50,000 years ago, Africa saved Homo sapiens from extinction. Charting the DNA shared by more than six billion people, a population geneticist—and director of the Genographic Project—suggests what humanity “owes” its first home. By Spencer Wells July 2007

His father's ancestors were among the first modern humans to enter Europe. Courtesy of the Hewson family. The Text Follows

Do you think you know who you are? Maybe Irish, Italian, Jewish, Chinese, or one of the dozens of other hyphenated Americans that make up the United States melting pot? Think deeper—beyond the past few hundred years. Back beyond genealogy, where everyone loses track of his or her ancestry—back in that dark, mysterious realm we call prehistory. What if I told you every single person in America—every single person on earth—is African? With a small scrape of cells from the inside of anyone's cheek, the science of genetics can even prove it.

Here's how it works. The human genome, the blueprint that describes how to make another version of you, is huge. It's composed of billions of sub-units called nucleotides, repeated in a long, linear code that contains all of your biological information. Skin color, hair type, the way you metabolize milk: it's all in there. You got your DNA from your parents, who got it from theirs, and so on, for millions of generations to the very beginning of life on earth. If you go far enough back, your genome connects you with bacteria, butterflies, and barracuda—the great chain of being linked together through DNA.

What about humanity, though? What about creatures you would recognize as being like you if they were peering over your shoulder right now? It turns out that every person alive today can trace his or her ancestry back to Africa. Everyone's DNA tells a story of a journey from an African homeland to wherever you live. You may be from Cambodia or County Cork but you are carrying a map inside your genome that describes the wanderings of your ancestors as they moved from the savannas of Africa to wherever your family came from most recently. This is thanks to genetic markers—tiny changes that arise rarely and spontaneously as our DNA is copied and passed down through the generations—which serve to unite people on ever older branches of the human family tree. If you share a marker with someone, you share an ancestor with him or her at some point in the past: the person who's DNA first had the marker that defines your shared lineage. These markers can be traced to relatively specific times and places as humans moved across the globe. The farther back in time and the closer to Africa we get, the more markers we all share.

What set these migrations in motion? Climate change—today's big threat—seems to have had a long history of tormenting our species. Around 70,000 years ago it was getting very nippy in the northern part of the globe, with ice sheets bearing down on Seattle and New York; this was the last Ice Age. At that time, though, our species, Homo sapiens, was still limited to Africa; we were very much homebodies. But the encroaching Ice Age, perhaps coupled with the eruption of a super-volcano named Toba, in Sumatra, dried out the tropics and nearly decimated the early human population. While Homo sapiens can be traced to around 200,000 years ago in the fossil record, it is remarkably difficult to find an archaeological record of our species between 80,000 and 50,000 years ago, and genetic data suggest that the population eventually dwindled to as few as 2,000 individuals. Yes, 2,000—fewer than fit into many symphony halls. We were on the brink of extinction.

And then something happened. It began slowly, with only a few hints of the explosion to come: The first stirrings were art—tangible evidence of advanced, abstract thought—and a significant improvement in the types of tools humans made. Then, around 50,000 years ago, all hell broke loose. The human population began to expand, first in Africa, then leaving the homeland to spread into Eurasia. Within a couple of thousand years we had reached Australia, walking along the coast of South Asia. A slightly later wave of expansion into the Middle East, around 45,000 years ago, was aided by a brief damp period in the Sahara. Within 15,000 years of the exodus from Africa our species had entered Europe, defeating the Neanderthals in the process. (Neanderthals are distant cousins, not ancestors; our evolutionary lineages have been separate for more than 500,000 years.) We had also populated Asia, learning to live in frigid temperatures not unlike those on the Moon, and around 15,000 years ago we walked across a short-lived, icy land bridge to enter the Americas—the first hominids ever to set foot on the continents of the Western Hemisphere. Along the way we kept adapting to new climates, in some cases lost our dark tropical skin pigmentation, developed different languages, and generated the complex tapestry of human diversity we see around the world today, from Africa to Iceland to Tierra del Fuego. But the thing that set it all in motion, the thing that saved us from extinction, happened first in Africa.

Some anthropologists call it the Great Leap Forward, and it marked the true origin of our species—the time when we started to behave like humans.

Africa gave us the tool we needed, in the form of a powerful, abstract mind, to take on the world (and eventually to decode the markers in our DNA that make it possible to track our amazing journeys). Perhaps just a few small genetic mutations that appeared around 50,000 years ago gave humans the amazing minds we use to make sense of the confusing and challenging world around us. Using our incredible capacity to put abstract musing into practice, we have managed to populate every continent on earth, in the process increasing the size of our population from a paltry few thousand to more than six billion. Now, 50 millennia after that first spark, times have changed. A huge number of things have contributed to Africa's relative decline on the world stage, perhaps most important geography. As Jared Diamond describes in his masterly book Guns, Germs, and Steel, Eurasia, with its East-West axis, allowed the rapid latitudinal diffusion of ideas and tools that would give its populations a huge advantage after the initial leap out of Africa. Couple that with the results of colonial exploitation over the past five centuries, and Africa, despite many strengths and resources, is once again in need, as it was 70,000 years ago. This time, though, things are different.

The world population that was spawned in Africa now has the power to save it. We are all alive today because of what happened to a small group of hungry Africans around 50,000 years ago. As their good sons and daughters, those of us who left, whether long ago or more recently, surely have a moral imperative to use our gifts to support our cousins who stayed. It's the least we can do for the continent that saved us all thousands of years ago.

Dr. Spencer Wells is explorer-in-residence at the National Geographic Society and the director of the Genographic Project. End of text. .

Who was wrong, God or writers of Genesis?

God would have known people would inhabit both North and South poles in the future where one day per year occurs versus 365 elsewhere.

God would have known people would travel to, from plus walk on the moon during which night never occurred. One very long day.

God would have known people in a space station would circle earth several times every 24 hours creating several days/nights for them.

God would have known science would eventually open an eye into the universe. The Hubble telescope has exposed an expanding universe in details unimaginable mere decades ago. A universe so vast it is only measurable in terms of billions of light years. A turbulent place where stars are born, live and die by the billions. Galaxies collide. Earth is a speck inside the Milky Way. We have not connected to any other life.

REALITY; Approximately 4,200 religions exist today. Which,

There are thousands of religions and sects in the world. Which, if any, is the right one? The battle between Islamic Sunni and Shite believers is century's old and spread to global impact. Today's radical Islamist terrorists originated in recent history. They began with teenage King Abdul al Sa'ud, a historic figure worthy of study.

From his teens he conducted a lifelong battle to establish and maintain his Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, traditions and customs plus accommodate rapid change and pressures from the industrial world. His small military faced his most crucial battle and required reinforcements recruited from the most fearsome, dedicated and loyal tribe.

"In the early 1920's he launched a personal campaign among the Bedouin. [1] "To that end he planted and fostered Fanaticism in the Ikhwan tribesmen to hate every non-Wahhabi as agents of the devil; fear no earthly power and to welcome death as the gateway to paradise. It worked and was a main factor in establishing the permanent Kingdom of Saudi Arabia. But when they encountered British planes and armored cars they were slaughtered. Seventh century means met 20th century power and caught up with the King." King Abdul al Sa'ud regretted his actions. [1] (Robert Lacey's book, The Kingdom, Arabia and the House of Saud. AVON 1982).

REALITY: Willing ISIS recruits are promised Paradise immediately upon killing non-Islamic believers and dying in the act. Most other religions are promised Heaven for obeying dictates and an exemplary life. Therein lies the problem.

Neither Heaven nor Paradise exist. First is the description of Heaven from the Bible.

Revelations 21:16. "And the city lieth foursquare, and the length is as large as the breadth: and he measured the city with the reed, twelve thousand furlongs. The length and the breadth and the height of it are equal." It has a lid and God resides therein. The dimensions converted to miles shape Heaven as a cube, 1,500 miles long, tall and roofed. Thus It extends 1,440 miles above the atmosphere where life cannot survive. The cube covers nearly all of the U.S.
We really ought to see that.

Second is the description of Paradise from the Holy Qur'an.

- Sura (chapter) 2:82: "But those who have faith and work righteousness, they are companions of the Garden: Therein shall they abide (For ever)."
- 3:133: "Be quick in the race for forgiveness from your Lord, and for a Garden whose width is that (of the whole) of the heavens and of the earth, prepared for the righteous."
- 3:185: "Every soul shall have a taste of death: And only on the Day of Judgment shall you be paid your full recompense. Only he who is saved far from the Fire and admitted to the Garden will have attained the object (of Life): For the life of this world is but goods and chattels of deception."
- 18:107: "As to those who believe and work righteous deeds, they have, for their entertainment, the Gardens of Paradise."
- 39:73: "And those who feared their Lord will be led to the Garden in crowds: until behold, they arrive there; its gates will be opened; and its keepers will say: 'Peace be upon you! well have ye done! enter ye here, to dwell therein'."
- 39:74: "They will say: 'Praise be to God, Who has truly fulfilled His Promise to us, and has given us (this) land in heritage: We can dwell in the Garden as we will: how excellent a reward for those who work (righteousness)!'"
- 47:15: "(Here is) a Parable of the Garden which the righteous are promised: in it are rivers of water incorruptible; rivers of milk of which the taste never changes; rivers of wine, a joy to those who drink; and rivers of honey pure and clear. In it there are for them all kinds of fruits; and Grace from their Lord...."
- Sura 56:1-40 of the Qur'an deals in depth with the Day of Judgment and the rewards that await persons who have led a good life.

- 56:15-21: "[They will sit] on gold-encrusted thrones of happiness, reclining upon them, facing one another in [love]. Immortal youths will wait upon them with goblets, and ewers, and cups filled with water from unsullied springs by which their minds will not be clouded and which will not make them drunk; and with fruit of any kind that they choose, and with flesh of any fowl that they may desire."
- 56:22-26: "And [accompanying them will be their] companions pure, most beautiful of eye, like unto pearls hidden in their shells. [This will be] a reward for what they did [during life]. No empty talk will they hear there, nor any call to sin, but only the tiding of inner soundness and peace."
- 56:27-33: "Now as for those who have attained to righteousness- what of those who have attained to righteousness? [They too will find themselves] amidst fruit-laden lote-trees, and acacias flower-clad, and shade extended, and waters gushing, and fruit abounding, never-failing and never out of reach."
- 56:34-37: "And [with them will be their] spouses, raised high; for behold, We shall have brought them into being in a life renewed, having resurrected them as virgins, full of love, well matched to those who have attained to righteousness"
- Surah 55 discusses the presence of "hūr." They have most commonly been considered to be Houris -- beautiful virgins:
 - 55:70: "In them will be fair [Maidens], good, beautiful."
 - 55:72: "Maidens restrained [as to their glances], in [goodly] pavilions."
 - 55:74: "Whom no man or Jinn before them has touched."

Janna (Paradise, Heaven) is called by eight names in the Qur'an: Jannatu al-Khuld, Darul as-Salam, Darul al-Qarar, Jannatu al-`Adn, Jannatu al-Ma`wa, Jannatu an-Na`im, `Illiyin, and Jannatu al-Firdaus. Janna is the Arabic word for "garden." ¹ They have been translated into English as: paradise, a garden on high, a home that will last, garden of eternity, garden of everlasting bliss, gardens of delight, home of peace, home of the righteous, etc. ²

The Prophet Muhammad is quoted as saying that everyone will see God on the Day of Resurrection, as easily as one can see the sun when there are no clouds. ³

There will be no sickness, pain, sadness or death there. The Prophet Muhammad said that there are things in Paradise "which no eye has seen no ear has heard and no human mind has thought of." ⁴

- Surah 44:51-55 and 52:17-20 state that the men in Paradise will enter marriage with the Houris.

Jinns are living entities that God created from "a smokeless flame of fire." ⁵ They are invisible to the human eye but marry, produce children, eat, drink, and die like all other creatures in the universe." ^{7,8}

In his commentary on Surah 55:72, Ibn Kathir (d. 1373 CE) stated: "The Prophet Muhammad was heard saying: 'The smallest reward for the people of paradise is an abode where there are 80,000 servants and 72 wives, over which stands a dome decorated with pearls, aquamarine, and ruby, as wide as the distance from Al-Jabiyah [a Damascus suburb] to Sana'a [Yemen]'." ⁹

Who is eligible for entry into Paradise:

Entry to Paradise is limited to those who believe in God and his messengers, and who have led a good life on earth. In the Qur'an:

- Surah 2:25: "And give good news [O Muhammad] to those who believe and do good deeds, that they will have gardens [Paradise] in which rivers flow...."
- Surah 4:57: "But those who believe and do good deeds, We will admit them to gardens (Paradise) in which rivers flow, lasting in them forever...."
- Surah 57:21: "Race one with another for forgiveness from your Lord and for Paradise, whose width is as the width of the heavens and the earth, which has been prepared for those who believe in God and His messengers...."

Presumably Agnostics, Atheists, Polytheists, and followers of non-Abrahamic religions will be denied access to Paradise because they lack belief. NOW-- BACK TO SAVING OUR EARTH FROM DESTRUCTION.

Earth's atmosphere is only 60 miles deep. Think of a town or feature 60 miles from your location and imagine it's vertical reach into the sky. A scaled version equals one layer of saran wrap on a basketball. Beyond 60 miles life cannot exist unless maintained by artificial means. We are earth's greatest threat. We are consumed in world domination; reckless mistreatment of land, air, water and resources; exploding population through ignorance or intent to outsize neighboring countries. STOP!

We must pivot, lay down turmoil, eliminate ignorance by education, switch attitudes and bias to dedicate ourselves, resources and leadership to make earth the heaven we dream of. Science and facts must replace myths and devious use thereof for power.

Science allows us to clone life, grow and replace body parts, correct faulty genes in every living thing, neuter many diseases, invent, produce, grow food, etc. etc. Internet exposes and creates interface for all people to express opinions and answers.

Eternal life is near at hand. Time for everybody to get a cheek swab and your genome model stored, ready for resurrection.

Various studies to estimate the number of galaxies in the universe vary from 200 to 800 billion. The vastness of space is best appreciated when distance out there is described in light years.

The speed of light is 186,282 miles per second. Multiply that times 31,556,926 seconds in a year. It equals 5,880,000,000,000 or 5.88 trillion miles. That is ONE LIGHT YEAR. The universe boggles the mind as we focus on one galaxy---ours---The Milky Way. Buried inside resides Spaceship Earth, our home.

Now you know how unique and precious our little blue marble is. All our attempts to contact life elsewhere have failed. We are alone! Why don't we leave it at that? Why advertise? What if a far more sophisticated planet in death throes needs a new home and a spaceship is on its way?

Since November 2000, alternate crews in the Space Station orbit earth at 5 miles per second or 90 minutes per lap. They have not reported an angel, god, heaven or paradise—just endless space. Google the Hubble gallery and gasp.

WELCOME TO OUR GALAXY THE MILKY WAY AND TEENY PLANET EARTH—ALONE IN THE UNIVERSE

We can continue our disheveled way of life engulfed in human made crises and hostility with a terrible end. Or, we can adopt REALITY and TRUTH determined to save Spaceship Earth and turn our wrath against tyranny wherever it is found.

Below, focus on our teeny Spaceship Earth with finite quantities of space, resources, land, water, clean air, food, etc. Look hard and visualize the horrific carnage going on, poverty, ignorance, greed, brutality, crime, depravity, over population, etc. This is our home. Imagine what it can become through global education, lifting the poorest, protecting our 60-mile deep atmosphere that protects us and accepting the fact we are one family. We are all Africans!

HOW CLEAR THE SKY MINUS HEAVEN AND OR PARADISE. SEEING IS BELIEVING

Earth needs global leadership from women and men that possess standards, qualities, wisdom, priorities and dedication. By nature they will place themselves last and poorest first, reject bribes, be constant, trustworthy and love people and earth.

Shortly after the end of World War II, the scientists who developed the atomic bombs dropped on Japan tried to envision the kind of nuclear event that could lead to the destruction of not just cities, but the entire world.

A declassified document shared by nuclear historian Alex Wellerstein gives the verdict that scientists at the Los Alamos laboratory and test site reached in 1945. They found that “it would require only in the neighborhood of 10 to 100 Supers of this type” to put the human race in peril.

The world’s current rush to acquire or enlarge H-bomb holdings is terrifying. We know rulers of Russia, North Korea, China, Iran, and many others are egoists, starved for world domination and reckless who may trigger nuclear war without regard for consequences. They need replacement with leaders who put their citizens first and earth alongside.

Earth staggers toward becoming a nuclear wasteland. We must stop it. Who will lead! Global revolution must occur to put earth before tyranny. We have numbers and collective power to rescue our Little Blue Marble as our eternal home.

SUMMATION:

To those bent on ruling earth, are you so ignorant you don't know 370,000 babies are born each day? 7.3 billion people occupy earth now and the United Nations estimates it rises to 9.6 billion by 2050? You believe you will rule and subjugate them? Every prior effort has failed.

There is neither hell nor devil beneath earth's crust, only magma like that oozing in Hawaii. Hell is created atop earth's surface by the worst of humanity. They must be overcome and obliterated that we can become one family.

If you have facts proving me wrong please correct, ridicule and shame me not by death but honest debate. I come in peace wanting a new world that awaits us, a permanent home for one family out of Africa with liberty and justice for all.

The First Life on Earth

Earth was able to support life only after the planet had cooled enough for a rocky crust to solidify. Once that happened, water vapor from volcanoes condensed in the atmosphere, fell as rain, and collected on the Earth's surface. Besides water vapor, volcanoes also produced gases rich in the basic ingredients of life: carbon, hydrogen, oxygen, and nitrogen. Toxic gases such as ammonia and methane were common. At this point, Earth's early atmosphere consisted entirely of these volcanic gases, and there was no free oxygen. In the primordial "soup" of the early seas, organic molecules concentrated, formed more complex molecules, and became simple cells.

The transition from complex organic molecules to living cells could have occurred in several environments. Small, warm ponds are one possibility, but recent work has suggested that deep-sea hydrothermal vents, such as those found along mid-ocean spreading centers today, may have been the cradle of Earth's life. These environments contain the chemicals and the source of energy needed to synthesize more complex organic structures. Although scientists have not succeeded in creating life from organic molecules in the laboratory, they have reproduced many of the intermediate steps.

So what were the first living things and when did they appear? Studies of genetic material indicate that a living group of single-celled organisms called Archaea may share many features with early life on Earth. Many Archaea now live in hot springs, deep-sea vents, saline water, and other harsh environments. If the first organisms resembled modern Archaea, they also may have lived in such places, but direct evidence for early life is controversial because it is difficult to distinguish between complex inorganic structures and simple biological ones in the geologic record. The oldest evidence for life may be 3.5-billion-year-old sedimentary structures from Australia that resemble stromatolites. Stromatolites are created today by living mats of microorganisms (mostly cyanobacteria, or blue-green algae). These primitive organisms trap thin layers of sediment with their sticky filaments and grow upward to get light for photosynthesis

Please reply soon. I cannot waste an entire weekend. I need your helping hand. Most grateful, Bill Kelly

Subject: Urgent

Hi Mr. Mayor,

First, I want you to know that I share in the pain and the shock of the citizens of Orlando, and my heart is with the bereaved families and the wounded.

Terror is not something new to me.

I moved from Vancouver BC to live in Israel, that suffers more terror, year after year, than any other democratic, 1st world country.

With a $100,000 donation in 2001, I started an organization, called The OneFamily Fund, which provides a comprehensive individualized care for every member of each family, based on each one's unique circumstances. We are providing our services (detailed below) today, to 2,800 families, numbering approximately 10,000 people. We have a staff of 46, located in four geographically divided regions of Israel

We are by far Israel's largest private foundation providing for the needs of every one of Israel's victims of terror, who chooses to receive it.

We provide the following:

- Financial grants based needs,
- Kids healing Camps, three times a year, for over 600 bereaved children under 18.
- A young adults division with over 700 men and women from the ages of 22 to 35 with 750 participants
- a bereaved Parents division with over 1,000 parents.
- a division for kids who lost both parents.
- a widow and widowers division with over 300 people
- two wounded divisions, divided by age for a few thousand of the wounded.
- A "professional friend" is assigned to each individual, which is run by professionals and a large cadre of volunteers

All of this is based on 15 years of experience, and over $45.0 million dollars of charitable distributions in cash or services.

I believe OneFamily has a lot to offer the community of wounded and bereaved in your Orlando, financially, emotionally, psychologically and more.

I also believe we could very helpful is raising the size of the fund through our personal contacts, Hollywood contacts and a viral marketing campaign.

We would be glad to help you in setting up the programs we have developed here during our 15 years of experience. Our comprehensive care for for the "victims" of terror or, as many prefer to call themselves, the "heroic survivors" of terror will change the lives for the better of every one involved. And we would be happy, through our contacts, to raise funds for their care and perhaps even enough for future attacks.

OneFamily received The President of Israel's award for volunteerism in 2011.

OneFamily has the public Endorsement of Israel's Prime Minister, Minister of Education, Minister of Defense, Minister of health and welfare as well as Israel's Ambassadors to the United States and the United Nations.
The former Mayor of Miami Beach, David Dermer, can also serve as a reference.

I appreciate the time you have taken to read this letter.
I hope we can be in touch to very soon to further develop this proposal.
Time is of the essence.

Sincerely
Marc Belzberg

Subject: About that filibuster:

Friend --

Yesterday, stretching into the early hours of this morning, 38 senators took to the floor of the Senate for 15 hours demanding that something be done in Congress to stop the epidemic of gun violence in this country.

They won. In the coming days, the Senate will vote on important steps like expanding background checks, and closing the so called "Terror Gap" loophole, which would prevent someone on the FBI's terror watch list from purchasing a deadly firearm.

Say you stand with these kinds of common-sense solutions to gun violence.

The conversation around preventing gun violence is changing. Senators who vote with the gun lobby are under increasing pressure, and these votes will put them on the record.

There's more that can be done. Our public health researchers shouldn't be prevented from researching how best to prevent these tragedies. Weapons of war shouldn't be allowed on our streets or in our communities. No law will prevent every tragedy, but if we can prevent even one, we should act.

Doing nothing is not an option. Speak up now:

Subject: Question

I truly appreciate you taking the time to read this in this time of stress and turmoil. I have a question that I did not want to pose on social media at the risk of being attacked. Going to the source was my immediate option.

There are a lot of funds in place right now. The biggest one being the Orlando fund. Where will this money go? Will it go to the families of the victims? To Pulse and its employees? To the first responders and the hospital staff? To the family of Christina Grimme, shot and killed two nights earlier? Orlando itself, as a city, did not suffer a huge financial loss. It suffered no devastating natural disaster.

Where will this money go??

Thank you again for your time.

Thank you Buddy for such a lovely response to my email. I honestly didn't expect a reply, never mind such a heart felt one!

I understand what you mean when you talk about the people, employees of the city, and ordinary citizens. I was made so welcome both in Lakeland and Orlando! One of your taxi cab drivers helped me escape an abusive relationship by helping me get to the airport safely, right to the flight gate! (Long story! ·)

I am sure that Orlando will keep its wonderful reputation intact! I hope to return to Orlando with family under more pleasant circumstances next summer!

I wish only good things for the citizens of your wonderful city. May you all recover from this awful event! If there is anything I can do to help, please do not hesitate to ask. It's at times like this we all need to be united!

Best wishes

Dear Liz,

The words thank you seem woefully inadequate for the outpouring of support I have received from so many people like you for the people of Orlando. From all over the world the personal words of kindness and support and offers of assistance have served to hearten, sustain and strengthen all of us. Thank you.

This past Sunday was the most horrific day in the history of the City of Orlando. And yet, I have never been more proud of our community because of the way they have come together, united with a singular focus of supporting the families and friends of the victims. Our hearts are broken for the family and friends of those we lost.

The heroic acts of our Orlando Police Department as well as other law enforcement, and the actions of our citizens no doubt saved lives throughout that night. The medical personnel in our City were tireless as they worked to save the lives of those transported to their hospital. They are heroes.

I cannot overstate the gratitude I have for the dedication of our City employees. Through long hours, they have helped in every way possible to lead our City through this weekend's events.

We will be a better City because of this. We will not be defined by the act of a cowardly hater. We will be defined by how we respond, how we treat each other.

And though tragic and incomprehensible, it's amazing to see the community support and outpour of compassion being shown this week. We are happy to continue this support based on the communities need. Also, I'm pleased to inform you The Coca-Cola Foundation has awarded Central Florida Foundation a $300,000 grant in support of the One Orlando Fund. Dear Mr. Dyer (may I call you Buddy?):

Thank you so much for your message this afternoon. I have read it several times; your words are deeply moving and inspirational. I watched you, Sheriff Deming, the governor, AG and FBI agents on television on Sunday, and was very impressed by how all of you conducted yourselves in view of such a tragedy. I note that the President himself visited your city today.

I wholeheartedly agree that the first responders, the medical teams and all others involved are true heroes: one can only imagine the emotional strain. It is truly amazing how a terrible thing can bring out the very best in people. Your city will come out on top.

My friends and I hope our videos may bring some solace or comfort to those affected. Our thoughts and prayers are with you all.

Thank you again so much, my friend, for your wonderful letter.

Tim

Subject: "Hometown Security" Fact Sheet
Importance: High

Dear Homeland Security Partner:

The Department of Homeland Security's National Protection and Programs Directorate (NPPD) has created a centralized web page on www.DHS.gov, called Hometown Security, to make it easier and more efficient for the public to find free useful community tools and resources about security protective measures.

The Hometown Security page(www.dhs.gov/hometown-security) includes existing incident-preparedness tools as well as new resources including the attached fact sheet to help direct small and mid-sized business to free tools and resources.

The webpage was created to assist in the outreach efforts to communities nationwide, to reach small and medium size businesses that attract large numbers of people, including but not limited to restaurants, clubs, grocery stores, places of worship and other venues that enable communities to thrive.

We would encourage you to share this information widely with your constituents to help promote the free tools and resources.

Regards,

Philip A. McNamara
Assistant Secretary for Intergovernmental Affairs
U. S. Department of Homeland Security
DHS.IGA@hq.dhs.gov
(202) 282-9310

Homeland Security Starts with Hometown Security

The U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS) closely monitors attacks on public gatherings and public places to constantly enhance the Nation's security. During both steady state and times of heightened awareness, DHS engages closely with our private sector and community partners to provide expert counsel and recommendations about protective measures they can implement to protect facilities and venues. DHS provides free tools and resources to communities because the Department recognizes that communities are the first line of defense in keeping the public safe and secure.

The Department encourages businesses to Connect, Plan, Train, and Report. Applying these four steps in advance of an incident or attack can help better prepare businesses and their employees to proactively think about the role they play in the safety and security of their businesses and communities.

CONNECT: Reach out and develop relationships in your community, including local law enforcement. Having these relationships established before an incident occurs can help speed up the response when something happens.

- Develop relationships with local law enforcement and businesses in your area. Invite local law enforcement to tour your business.
- Connect with community security and preparedness organizations such as the Federal Bureau of Investigation's public-private partnership program "InfraGard."
- Contact the local DHS Protective Security Advisor who is available to support your efforts.
- Communicate with your customers and let them know about the security measures you are taking to ensure a positive experience and to maintain public safety.
- If your business is located at or near a Federal facility, connect with DHS's Federal Protective Service at 1-877-4FPS-411.

PLAN: Take the time now to plan on how you will handle a security event should one occur. Learn from other events to inform your plans.

- Be aware of current threats related to your geographic region or impacting your business sector.
- Develop plans, including security, emergency response, emergency communications, and business continuity plans, while considering the protection of your employees and customers, access control, closed-circuit television, signage, suspicious activity reporting, and parking security.
- Evaluate your security requirements and design a monitoring, surveillance, and inspection program that is consistent with your business operations.
- Develop evacuation and shelter-in-place plans, and ensure that multiple evacuation routes are clearly marked with appropriate signage and that rallying points are available.
- Develop and implement a security plan for computer and information systems hardware and software.

- Engage local first responders (police, fire, medical) in all of the above efforts to ensure your efforts are in synergy with theirs.

TRAIN: Provide your employees with training resources and exercise your plans often. The best laid plans must be exercised in order to be effective.

- Train employees on identifying and reporting suspicious activities, active shooter scenarios, and what to do if they suspect an improvised explosive device (IED). Ensure they understand security basics, emergency response, business continuity plans, and increased awareness of potential threats.
- Exercise your emergency communications plan.

REPORT: “If You See Something, Say Something™” is more than just a slogan. Call local law enforcement.

- Post details on reporting suspicious activity and encourage employees, tenants, and visitors to report suspicious behavior to property management security or local law enforcement. Things to consider include unattended vehicles; repeat visitors or outsiders who have no apparent business in non-public area; abandoned parcels, suitcases, backpacks, and packages; and other unusual activity.
- Get involved with the Department’s “If You See Something, Say Something™” campaign.

I am Sending a Request to perform our patriotic aerial flag display above Orlando. Im one of the Team owners of Team Fastrax and we would like to dedicate a free Demo jump with 10 Flags like the Photo at attached. for your city due to its loss. Team Fastrax is called America's Skydiving Team for one reason that is because we represent. We are the only team approved to jump over Ground Zero in New York City, Independence Hall in Philadelphia, Walter Reed Hospital and the Pentagon in Washington, DC. We have taken hundreds of wounded warriors skydiving and perform across the United States at dozens of veteran related venues at our expense.

Team Fastrax is made up of many military veterans from the Rangers, Special Forces and Airborne units and have an accumulation of over 300,000 skydives. One of our members is a double amputee (Retired SFC Dana Bowman) who will participate on each of these performances. What better way to show all of our wounded warriors that the sky is not the limit.

I am available to discuss this further by telephone and can be reached at 812.350.1092. I have attached some great photos of previous jumps, If you have time visit our website www.teamfastrax.org or Dana website <http://www.danabowman.com/> and view the two 9/11 tribute videos below.

May God continue to Bless you and the United States of America.

PRAYERS FOR ORLANDO

By: Toni Tarsi of Brandon, FL

I wondered what I could do for the victims this week,

When prayer just doesn't seem to be enough...

Christina Grimmie shot and killed after a concert on June 10th,

Who knows why someone would do that...

Two days later a mass terrorist attack at the Pulse Nightclub,

Fifty people killed and Fifty-three injured...

How could anyone kill so freely?

Then a family on vacation at Disney loses their two-year-old son to a gator.

The happiest place on earth...

My heart is heavy as I pray for the victims and their families.

Christina was sharing a moment with her fans ... never thinking her life would end shortly.

The victims in the club were enjoying a night out with friends,

Talking, laughing, and dancing..

Never thinking what tomorrow would bring,

That so many lives would instantly change.

The family on vacation...

Most of us know the excitement that goes into the planning stage,

Especially a Disney vacation...

Did they even think that they would not return home with their baby boy?

The Orlando area has had a week of challenges.

They are showing their strength and coming together,

Humanity at its best...

I will continue to pray for the victims and their families,

Asking for God's guidance,

As the families try to live their lives without their loved ones,

Waiting until the day when they are reunited once again.

Just wanted to send a special poem to Orlando...

You are not alone.

 MEDIA ALERT *****

Orange County Mayor Announces Rainbow 25 Sea to Sea Flag On Display at Orange County Administration Building

Orange County, FL – In tribute to the lives lost at the Pulse Nightclub shooting and in support of freedom lovers worldwide, Section 93 of the Sea-to-Sea Rainbow Flag will be on display at the Orange County (Florida) Administration Building in Orlando, beginning Thursday, June 16. Mark Ebenhoch, Executive Director of LoveisLove Key West, will accompany the flag (Sect. 93).

The Sea-to-Sea Flag has become a globally-recognized symbol of the LGBTQ movement and symbolizes acceptance, understanding, education, solidarity, and inclusion.

WHAT: The original rainbow flag was designed by San Francisco artist Gilbert Baker in 1978 as a symbol of gay and lesbian pride in response to anti-gay activities. In the spring of 2003, Baker and a team of volunteers cut and sewed a 1.25-mile-long version of the flag in Key West, to celebrate the iconic banner's 25th anniversary. On June 15, 2003, some 2,000 volunteers unfurled the flag from the Atlantic Ocean to the Gulf of Mexico along the entire length of Duval Street, in a sea-to-sea representation of pride and diversity. Section 93 has since traveled worldwide.

WHAT: Commemorative Ceremony

WHO: Orange County Mayor Teresa Jacobs, Faith leaders, LGBTQ leaders, elected officials

WHERE: Orange County Administration Building – Rosalind Avenue Courtyard
201 S. Rosalind Ave., Orlando, FL 32801

WHEN: Friday, June 17, 10:30 a.m.

Dear Mayor Dyer,

You and the community are in our thoughts and prayers given the recent tragedy in Orlando. I want you to know we started Monday Night RAW last week with all of our Superstars on stage for a moment of silence, and our Chairman, myself, my husband and various WWE Superstars have been sharing messages of solace via social media.

We are already brainstorming ideas to help raise money for the OneOrlando fund and I wanted to know if there was more we could be doing. With our Performance Center, our 3rd brand NXT, and WrestleMania being headquartered in Orlando; we feel Orlando is a second home. We want to do everything we can to help support you and your efforts to rebuild the constitution of your great city.

Please let me know how we can help,

Steph
