4. PROCEDURES

4.1 CALL-OUT RESPONSIBILITIES

The following outlines call-out responsibilities for officers, supervisors, and Communications.

4.1.1 RESPONSIBILITIES OF OFFICERS

Officers encountering a situation necessitating the call-out of a detective, CSI, special team, or other employees of the Department shall adhere to the following guidelines:

- a. Officers shall only make telephone calls to on-call investigative personnel when authorized to do so by a patrol supervisor, acting patrol supervisor, or watch commander.
- b. If officers have information for investigative personnel and it is after 2100 hours, the officer should only make the phone call if the investigative personnel has specifically requested it.
- c. Calls to on-call investigative personnel (to determine response) should not be made until a patrol supervisor, acting patrol supervisor, or watch commander has complete information to appropriately assess the situation and authorizes the call.
- d. In cases involving obvious natural deaths, officers shall not call investigative personnel unless specifically requested to do so by the Medical Examiner's investigator.
- e. If a call-out is warranted according to this policy, suspects/arrestees should only be questioned or advised of constitutional rights by patrol personnel when authorized by the responding detective or investigative supervisor.
- f. The initial responding officers assigned to a major crime scene shall not be released before the detective's arrival unless relieved by the detective or a commanding officer.
- g. Crime scenes shall be secured and cordoned off as quickly as possible. In cases involving violent death or injury that is obvious, the information should be conveyed to the responding detective. At no time shall a body be touched or disturbed in any way, except to render first aid or other necessary life-saving techniques, or at the specific direction of the medical examiner.
- h. The initial responding officers shall confer with the assigned detective before the completion of any incident reports to ensure that sensitive investigative information is protected.

4.1.2 RESPONSIBILITIES OF FIELD SUPERVISORS

When a request for a detective, technician, or other employees of the Department is made by an officer, the patrol supervisor shall make a full assessment of the situation and determine the need for a call-out. In all cases, as soon as practically possible, the patrol supervisor shall respond to the scene.

The field supervisor shall be responsible for determining if the situation complies with the guidelines established in this directive. The field supervisor shall determine whether the appropriate detective is on duty to respond. If no detective is on duty, the field supervisor shall contact Communications to obtain the contact information of the on-call investigative supervisors, CSIs and Crime Scene supervisors (if one is not working), Traffic Homicide detective, or other on-call employees. It shall be the field supervisor's responsibility to contact the appropriate personnel and provide all the necessary information. Field supervisors will make the notification to the on-call investigative supervisors. Field supervisors will contact Communications for the telephone number of the on-call supervisor.

The field supervisor or authorized officer will not request or instruct employees of Communications to make the notifications to on-call investigative supervisors, except in emergency cases.

When a request for a special team is made, the field supervisor shall immediately notify the watch commander and respond to the scene. The watch commander shall respond to the scene and determine if a special team response is necessary. The watch commander will notify Communications to make the proper notifications. See Section 4.4, Notification of Specialized Units.

This roster shall include the dates each individual is on call and an alternate individual.

The on-call investigative supervisors, traffic homicide detectives, and other on-call personnel will determine if a response will occur and the number of personnel required. Conflicts between patrol supervisors and on-call investigative personnel shall be resolved by the watch commander. The watch commander shall require a response by the appropriate unit if it is deemed necessary or in the best interest of the Department.

In the case of a call-out for special teams, the incident commander shall personally notify the High-Risk Incident Commander (HRIC) to provide an overview of the incident and to determine if a response is necessary. Special team commanders have the authority and responsibility to determine the type and number of special team personnel required to respond to the call-out. See Section 4.4. Notification of Specialized Units.

4.1.4 RESPONSIBILITIES OF COMMUNICATIONS
